MARRIED MEN FACING EARLY WAR SERVICE

Hershey Reveals Plan to Rush Induction as He Urges Lowering Draft Age.

HEARINGS SPEEDED UP

Age Reduction to Open Doors To 'Best Manpower,' Says Selective Service Head.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—One million one hundred thousand more men will have to be drafted by Jan. 1, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey testified today in support of legislation to draft 18 and 19-year-olds.

Most of these 1,100,000, he told the house military committee, will come from the group of men having secondary dependents, such as parents, and those having a wife only. The rest would be men with no dependents.

Hershey estimated that dropping the minimum draft age from 20 to 18 would make available 1,500,000 "of what is the best of our manpower."

He explained to the committee that after Jan. 1 selective service must look for its manpower needs to the teen-age group—to men employed in agriculture and essential industry, and to the group having dependents.

Explaining the rapid increase in the induction rate, General Hershey said that during the first six months of this year inductions were at the rate of about 200,000 monthly, increased to more than 300,000 monthly during the third quarter, would be 400,000 this month, and approximately 450,000 in November and December.

The rapid pace of hearings, both the house and senate military committees, indicated they might be finished tonight. Continuance of such a gait could mean that high school students might be in the army by Christmas.

Even if the draft age is lowered quickly, Hershey explained, this hardly would affect the draft of married men before December, since November quotas already (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

Lynchburg, Va. Leads In Scrap Metal Campaign

NEW YORK—(AP)—At least 16 cities—with only three days left in the nationwide scrap metal drive led by the newspapers—today had exceeded 100 pounds per person in salvage.

The record of Lynchburg, Va., with a population of 44,541, was far the best. That city had collected 12,754,989 pounds, or an average of 286.3 pounds for every man, woman and child there.

The campaign, which officially began Sept. 28, ends Saturday.

Already more than an estimated 1,429,804 tons had been collected by the 24 states which the newspapers' united scrap metal drive committee named as the top half of the nation in collecting old iron and steel.

Kansas still headed the list, a position it had held now a week, with a total of 65,000 tons, or 72.2 pounds per person.

Lincoln county, Nevada, reported a county-wide per capita collection of 466 pounds, far higher than any single city reported.

Willkie Stands Firm In Call For 2nd Front

Tour of War Areas Ends In Conference With President.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—Wendell Willkie stepped out of the role of personal representative of the president and back into that of private citizen today after ending an epochal circuit of the world and appealing anew for a second front.

From the White House itself, where he reported to President Roosevelt late yesterday on a 31,000 mile tour that took him to fighting fronts in the Middle East, Russia and China, Willkie urged that a second front be established. He had made the same appeal in Moscow.

Yet he told reporters: "In my judgment, Germany will never conquer Russia."

Willkie said he had his own opinion where a second front should be opened, but he was unwilling to name the spot. He based his decision that there should be one, he asserted, on talks with "military men all over the world."

"May I say without boast," he remarked, "that I have had considerable experience in judging recommendations of technical men."

Seated on a tremendous, circular table in the White House lobby, Willkie asserted with confidence:

"Sure, we're going to win this war. We have the power and the resources on our side."

But he said he was concerned over the cost in human lives and human values and over winning the peace as well as the war.

Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee in 1940, toured 14 countries in 50 days accomplishing "certain things" for the man who beat him at the polls.

In a formal statement, he said he had two other purposes:

1. To "demonstrate to our Allies and to a good many neutral countries that there is unity in the United States on the purpose of winning this war." He said nobody had asked him to do it.

2. To find out all he could about the war and how it could be won.

"I won quickly so that we can get back to our jobs again, and won securely so that the peace which follows it will hold."

MORE TYPHOID

Nine Cases Now In Ontario Area; One in Mansfield.

With a total of nine typhoid fever cases at Ontario and one in Mansfield, Dr. W. B. Wild, city-county health commissioner, and private practitioners today were administering immunization treatment to virtually every school-age child in the Springfield township, Ontario centralized school area.

More than 250 parental consent permits had been returned to school authorities this morning. Many other children previously had been immunized by their family physician.

Reports from the state health department laboratories and the laboratory of General Hospital placed four suspected cases of fever on the active list late yesterday, bringing the total known cases in the Ontario sector to nine. No new cases have been detected in Mansfield.

TESTS CURFEW

Columbus Hotel Attacks Midnight Closing On Liquor Sales.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Counsel for the Neil House sued in common pleas court today for a decision to determine whether the city can lawfully enforce a midnight liquor sale curfew enacted recently by city council. Hearing was set for Monday.

Hotel attorneys contended the ordinance was unconstitutional and enforcement would result in "irreparable injury and financial losses."

CITY ROCKED

LISBON—(AP)—Explosions at sea shook buildings and shattered windows yesterday afternoon on Cape Roca, westernmost point of Portugal, tending to bear out earlier reports, still without confirmation, of a naval battle in the Atlantic off Portugal.

Willkie Reports to FDR After World Tour

Wendell L. Willkie, special emissary of President Roosevelt, completes his 31,000-mile around-the-world tour with his visit at the White House, in Washington, where he is shown following a 90-minute report to the U. S. chief executive, Willkie told the press that his appeals for a second front were the result of military expert opinion obtained abroad. He plans to prepare a written report and take a rest at his Indiana home. Willkie is shown interviewed by newsmen after his conference with FDR.

2ND TEST ALARM AT 7 TONIGHT

Siren to Ring for Five Minutes From Church Broadcasting Equipment.

Testing of carillon facilities at St. Luke's Lutheran church at 7 p. m. today to determine its practical use as an air raid signal alarm will not involve any black-out demonstration.

Announcement of the five-minute test of the raid siren and all-clear records by Rev. H. S. Gurnes who has short-wave radio equipment at the church, was made this morning by James A. McDermid, chairman of the civilian defense technical committee, and Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, defense co-ordinator.

Last Thursday's tests of factory whistles proved them inadequate as raid signal alarms, McDermid and others declared.

"All air raid wardens are directed to listen to the carillon siren and report its sound-carrying distance to their zone leaders," Atty. Glenn W. Marriott, chief warden, announced. "Zone wardens in turn will consolidate their reports and present them to technical observers at defense headquarters in city hall."

Arranged as a transcription, the siren record will sound for five minutes. Rev. Gurnes explained. Another record has been inscribed on it the "all clear" signal prescribed by the national defense council.

Members of the technical committee will be at strategic positions throughout the city during the test period to determine how far the carillon can be heard.

Stole Mail Bag to Keep Pup Dry, Runaway Boys Declare

Two runaway boys from Cleveland, 12 and 14 years old, told county officers today how they cut open a mail bag at Lexington with their hunting knives so they could put their puppy in the bag to keep him warm and dry.

Brought to the sheriff's office this morning by Postmaster Frank A. Griebing and Rev. Jack W. Mellick of Lexington, the boys first refused to talk, but Deputy Sheriff G. C. Humphrey finally obtained a confession from the older boy.

A district postal inspector was to question the pair today in juvenile court. Meanwhile they were taken to the detention home by juvenile officer Ralph Carroll.

'Help Hunt Halloween' Comes Back at Mardi Gras Oct. 30

Mansfield is going to "Help Hunt Halloween" again this year. The slogan, established by the late Fred Hunt, who staged a Halloween celebration in Mansfield over a period of 30 years, was revived again today when plans were completed for a combined mardi gras and war bond-selling celebration, Friday night, Oct. 30.

Back of the plans is Mrs. Ada Hunt, proprietor of Hunt's News Stand, and widow of the man "who was always looking for something that the young people could do on Halloween to keep them out of mischief," Mrs.

CONSUL HELD

Chilean Police Arrest German Refugee From U. S.

SANTIAGO, Chile—(AP)—Chilean police were reported mounting guard today over Dr. Hans Borchers, former German consul general in New York and former consul in Cleveland, who arrived in this country last March without diplomatic or consular credentials.

Borchers was ousted from the United States in 1941 following the closing of German consulates by federal order.

Police were said to be taking three other men, arrested last week as German spies and refused permission to enter Argentina, to the same seaside resort north of Valparaiso. They were identified as Albrecht Kleiber, Ludwig Ross and Wilhelm Dorbach.

CALLED 'BUNK'

LONDON—(AP)—Asked about a house of commons report that Rudolf Hess' wife is seeking permission to join the captive deputy fuhrerr in Britain, a British foreign office commentator said today it was "bunk."

ITALIAN GENERAL KILLED

LONDON—(AP)—General Alessandro Preghieri, commander of the Italian Beccia division, was killed in action on the Egyptian front Tuesday, the Rome radio announced today.

BOTTLES BANNED

Liquor Sales to Soldiers in Northern Ireland Ruled Out.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland—(AP)—Retail liquor dealers announced today a ban on the sale of bottled spirits and wines to members of the United States and British armed forces in northern Ireland.

The action was taken after consulting army authorities, they said.

UPHOLDS TENURE ACT

ASHTABULA—(AP)—Holding the state teachers' tenure act constitutional, the district court of appeals ordered the Ashtabula city school board to grant a continuing contract to Lillian House, Miss House, a teacher for 15 years, alleged the board violated the law by not offering her a continuing contract.

GRADES PUSH HARD TO BEAT SENIOR HIGH

'Little Ones' Put on Steam To Keep N-J Trophy From Older Pupils.

SCRAP PILES MOUNTING

Hedges, Woodland Presenting Serious Threat; Pupils Get Holiday Tomorrow.

(By United Press)
COLUMBUS—(AP)—The state department of education announced today extension of the Ohio school children's war scrap drive from Oct. 17 to Oct. 24.

Their scrap collecting slowed up a little yesterday by the rain. Mansfield boys and girls went to work with new vigor today to put their schools in the running for the News-Journal trophy which will be awarded on the basis of per pupil collections this week.

Although Senior high school apparently was in the lead yesterday, a number of grade schools, notably the Western avenue and Hedges schools, are forging to the front and may win out by the deadline Friday night.

With close to six tons collected last night, the Western avenue school had about 40 pounds per pupil and had considerably more scrap in sight for today.

Hedges pupils, who collected and sold more than 10 tons of scrap last week, had more than four tons last night and were piling it up on the school grounds.

Because the grade schools have smaller enrollments than Senior high school, they can win with less scrap. Prospect school had more than two tons last night.

Carl L. Slough, county salvage chairman, said the two junior high schools, Bowman, Bushnell, and Woodland school would be checked this evening.

He said one of the competing groups at Senior high school collected four tons Wednesday and its members were working just as hard today.

One Mansfield junk dealer is sure of that. He heard a racket (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

CHILD SOUGHT

20,000 Civilian Defense Men Join In Coast Search.

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Missing for two days, four-year-old Vivian Miller, feared to have been kidnapped by a degenerate, today was the object of a wide-spread search in which nearly 20,000 civilian defense volunteers participated with police and other authorities.

The search, one of the most intensive in the history of the west coast, failed to uncover a definite clue to the whereabouts of the missing child, who disappeared from her grandmother's home last Tuesday.

Civilian defense volunteers were pressed into the hunt by Police Chief Charles Dullea, who requested the city's air raid wardens and auxiliary policemen to "search every square inch of San Francisco."

DONOR SOUGHT

Fifty Counterfeit Coins Found In Indiana Scrap Heap.

GARY, Ind.—(AP)—Secret Service agents exhibited a lively interest today in the identity of the donor to one of Gary's scrap metal piles.

The contribution of the anonymous donor was 50 coins of various denominations—all counterfeit.

Bolstered Jap Forces Gird to Oust Marines

Enemy Succeeds In Landing Heavy Troop Reinforcements at Guadalcanal and Bombards American-Held Air Field, Navy Reveals.

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The navy announced today that the Japanese have brought up heavy naval units in their apparently all out effort to drive American Army and Marine forces out of the Solomon islands despite considerable enemy losses in the last four days.

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON—(UP)—Ground units of the U. S. Army have joined in the defense of Guadalcanal. Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson announced at his press conference today.

WASHINGTON—The inevitable showdown battle for Guadalcanal—key to the Solomon islands—today appeared imminent, if not already under way.

That possibility was revealed by announcement that a Japanese invasion force—repulsed once over the week-end in a fierce naval battle—was landing on the north shore of Guadalcanal; that enemy surface ships have bombarded the airfield and shore installations on Guadalcanal.

There was no mention of the American naval task force which last week-end sank four warships and a transport of the enemy invasion fleet.

The action of both American and Japanese forces during the last two months has made plain the great importance attached by both sides to the Solomon islands, especially Guadalcanal.

The Americans already have paid a high price—three heavy cruisers, three destroyers and four transports—to capture Guadalcanal with its important airfield.

The Japanese have paid a higher price in abortive attempts to recapture the island. Enemy losses now total eight ships sunk, two probably sunk and 38 damaged, several of the latter damaged seriously enough to put them out of commission for a long time.

Last night's naval communique was a sudden turn for the worse for the American forces in the Solomons. Less than 24 hours before, the news from that front indicated that they were on the offensive—having repulsed the invasion force on the second time and making ground gains on the island.

There was no attempt here to belittle the seriousness of the situation on Guadalcanal if the enemy succeeds in completing its landing operation. But officials are confident, and they are supported by statements made in Pearl Harbor by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz after his return from the Solomons.

WANING: German Attacks on Stalingrad Repulsed by Soviets

(By Associated Press)
Soviet headquarters reported today that the Red armies had beaten off five German counter-attacks along the 40-mile barrier northwest of Stalingrad, while inside the Volga metropolis the defenders turned back small-scale forays by Nazi tanks and riflemen.

It was the 52nd day of siege. German field headquarters, citing actual operations inside the city for the first time in five days, claimed new gains and asserted that Nazi bombers and Stuka dive bombers were smashing Russian pillboxes and artillery emplacements.

"In Stalingrad, infantry and panzer formations broke stubborn Soviet resistance offered in blocks of houses and barricades, and advanced deeply into the northern district of the city."

"Enemy attacks of relief were repelled and sanguinary losses inflicted upon the enemy."

Soviet dispatches said the gigantic struggle had waned to an almost static situation and reported that German burial parties were busy clearing the battlefield on the approaches to a northwest suburb—site of the great Stalin tank works—where the Nazi assault failed to crack the backbone of Russian defense.

"Battles of local importance continued," Red army headquarters announced, but it was evident that for the moment at least the German storm had subsided.

In its mid-day communique, the Soviet command reported that Russian troops repulsed several German attacks.

PURGE: Hitler Ousts Nazi Chief of Staff, Other Generals

(By United Press)
LONDON—Adolf Hitler has dismissed Gen. Franz Halder, chief of staff in the German high command, and dismissed or reduced in rank numerous other high officers in a drastic army purge, reports reaching London said today.

Halder, an artillery specialist, has been regarded as one of the key men of the German high command.

Stockholm reports said he had been succeeded by Gen. Alfred Jodl, chief of operations in the high command, also an artillery expert and one of Hitler's favorites.

Russian sources reported that a purge which had already cost Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock the command of the southern front had been extended widely and in making it Hitler used a secret report by Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Nazi Gestapo, on high army men.

The reported army purge was connected directly with the failure to take Stalingrad.

There seemed no remaining doubt that Hitler had based all his strategy for the winter, against the advice of some members of the high command including Halder, on the belief that Stalingrad would be in German hands early in September.

One report which reached here said that at a conference in Ber-

VOODOO DOCTORS LAMENT THAT UNIFORMS HURT THEIR BUSINESS

(By United Press)
NEW ORLEANS—A voodoo doctor on South Rampart street—the Broadway of the Negroes—lamented today that the war had done to his practice what his predecessors had done to the cult's queens, like old Marie Leveau.

He meant that global war and the draft board have shot his business to pieces, just as the doctors before him undermined the hierarchy of the cult and branched off for themselves, cutting out the regal middle-women.

The voodoo doctor in New Orleans more than likely is a glib-tongued man with cynical mind and elastic principles who peddles love potions and go-away powders of his own concoction.

There was a time, though, when the cult doctor was an impressive personage who would not dole out a prescription without orders from the cult's queen. And there was only one queen—at a time.

Finally, rival queens claimed rule of the cult and each named her doctor or doctors. Before long the doctors outnumbered the queens and another monopoly was broken.

Now the war has come and there are fewer "bucks" begging for a button or praying for a powder that will make true love shine again, or an unwanted love light dim out.

The Rampart street doctor says if it gets worse he will have to try to make a living honestly.

If you find him lamenting, maybe the Rampart street doctor will tell you some of the inner secrets of voodoo pharmacy.

He might tell you about his prescription—before the war—for the young buck with an inconstant heart and constant troubles. He wanted Gal No. 1 to clear out because Gal No. 2 had a suspicious nature and a whetted razor.

A razor in South Rampart street parlance is a shaving instrument.

The doctor sold him a pouch of brick dust and talcum—labeled "go-away powders"—for 50 cents. The patient left assured that a sprinkling in the shoe of the unwanted would cause her to fade from the picture, thus squaring a triangle.

Maybe he will show you a jar of eagle-eyes. Eagle-eyes are really the orbs of catfish pickled in alcohol. Some believe they enable the possessor to foresee actions of enemies. Price: $2.

Not long ago, the doctor said, a customer asked for the backbone of a black cat. He got it for $3. He was the best customer in months. The doctor merely sent to the kitchen of a nearby restaurant for the backbone of a turkey, disfigured it with a knife and burned it over a Bunsen burner.

Maybe it did look like that of a cat.

"Man, dat's the jen-you-wine," the patient commented. But even the doctor doesn't know what that conjure was for.

Devil-dust is a wonderful concoction. The doctor says it should be worn in a bag around the neck to dispel other conjures, to eliminate love rivals, and to make sevens predominate in certain social functions.

There are many other potions, powders and concoctions, each for a specific purpose, all made of harmless substances like talc, sulphur powder, herbs, etc.

"But," wailed the doctor, "who you goin' prescribe em fuh? Ain't nobody left much but some po' trash what never bought nothing, noway. And some defense wukkers what got mo' money den dey—at a time."

Hurrying it along FOR VICTORY

Because prompt and continued receipt of additional supplies and weapons may be a matter of life or death to gallant men at the front, B & O's operating force is moving freight with record-breaking dispatch — to and from essential war production plants.

It takes production plus transportation to win. And B & O's army of more than 50,000 patriotic employees has gone all-out in supporting America's drive to victory.

ARMY RE-UNITES SEPARATED PALS
Schoolmates Who Worked In Same Mill Meet Again at Training Station.

(By International News Service)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. — This must be a small world after all. Bill Meckling, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Phil Enterline, of Kittanning, Pa., were inseparable pals when they attended Westminster college here.

They were room-mates for four years, belonging to the same "frat," jointly-owned a battered jalopy, wore each other's clothes on double-dates, worked together in the same mill during vacations and majored together in business administration.

Last May, graduation separated them.

This summer, Meckling was inducted into the army at Indianapolis, and Enterline was drafted at Kittanning.

Meckling arrived at his station at the Air Force Technical school at Miami Beach, Fla., in the afternoon recently. Three hours later, he met his bosom pal, Enterline, who had been assigned to Miami Beach too, and was stationed at the next hotel down the street.

Chinese Student Seeks to Better Diet of Soldiers

ITHACA, N.Y.—Stranded in America because of the war, Dr. Peng Cheng Hsu, a Chinese student at Cornell, is engaged in nutrition research he hopes will help American and Chinese fighting men and improve the average diet of people of the United States.

Studying "foods for exercise," he found that vitamin B-1 is lost most readily during exercise and needs to be replenished. Riboflavin is not lost so easily. Rats in a special exercise cage covered as much as six miles a day. The same amount of exercise, according to Dr. Hsu, would probably be equivalent to a march of 25 or more miles a day for a soldier.

Dr. Hsu is now studying a typical American diet and comparing it with a synthetic diet which contains all the known vitamins. He says the American diet leaves lots of room for improvement; not enough vitamins are present. Nine per cent of Americans, he points out, eat white bread instead of enriched white bread or whole wheat bread. This research is still in its infancy.

TRAP EFFECTIVE

REDLANDS, Cal.—(U.P.)—A small boy here was caught in such bad company that he has promised "never again."

The repeated theft of watermelons from the Cooley ranch resulted in Carl Hert, predatory animal catcher, placing a series of traps among the watermelon vines. Along with the boy caught, were four coyotes.

23 New Master Sergeants Hold Unique Records

CHANUTE FIELD, Ill. —(AP)—The 23 new master sergeants at Chanute Field, parent school of the AAF Technical Training Command, have a record to be proud of behind them.

Recently promoted to the highest enlisted grade in the army, the group's record showed:

They have served more than 300 years in the army.

Among their number are men who sustained wounds in the St. Mihiel and Argonne sectors in the first World war.

They've seen foreign service in France, Panama, Hawaii, China and the Philippines.

They've served hitches in the infantry, coast artillery, cavalry, engineers and signal corps.

Here's Scrap Heap at Senior High School

One of the biggest school scrap piles in the city is at Senior high school where two groups of pupils, working to outdo each other, have collected tons of it and heaped it in the stadium. The "M" association and Vocational club have combined to make one team while other pupils in the school make up the opposing team. Here's a view of the big scrap heap which was growing bigger today. One of the teams collected four tons yesterday to add to the collection.

BOMBARDIERS OBJECT TO WAY DICTIONARY DESCRIBES THEM

MIDLAND ARMY FLYING SCHOOL, Tex. (AP) Those versatile bombardiers of the Army Air Forces aren't content with blowing the Axis to smithereens. Now they want to re-write the dictionary.

What's more, Dr. Charles E. Funk, dictionary editor, says he's willing to let them do it.

The distinguished etymologist made his statement after flogging bombardiers at this world's largest bombardier college took exception to the definitions given by Dr. Funk's board of editors to the word, bombardier. They described that important military occupation as: "a carabid beetle, a non-commissioned officer in the British Army; an artilleryman in charge of mortars and howitzers."

Pointing out that a bombardier of the U. S. Army Air Forces is a highly trained member of a bombing team who has mastered the difficult art of operating the bombsight, America's priceless secret weapon, the cadet emphasized also that bombardiers are commissioned as second lieutenants upon completion of their training.

"Not only is history being made mighty fast these days, but also is language," Dr. Funk replied. "You fellows are taking old words and giving them new meanings, and you are coining a lot of new ones."

Dictionaries just can't keep up with America's fighting young language changers, Dr. Funk declared, because "dictionaries must measure their editions in terms of years, and the problem is difficult even for the newspapers which are prepared and printed within 24 hours."

He held out hope, however, for a permanent record of the changes in language resulting from the war.

"Maybe when you bombardiers have finished your job, we old logics can record what you have done," he stated.

BREAKS TABU

SANTA CRUZ, Cal. —(AP)—A tradition of nearly a century was broken here when 14-year-old Belmarie Henke, Santa Cruz high school girl, took over a newspaper route for the Santa Cruz Sentinel.

Founded in 1855, it was the first time in 87 years, that the paper was unable to secure carrier boys.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR JELLIFFES SPEAK

Founders of Karamu House In Cleveland Present Interesting Talks at Westbrook for Two Study Clubs.

WESTBROOK COUNTRY CLUB was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a joint meeting of the Wednesday Study and Tuesday Book clubs. Mrs. Carl F. Routzahn and Mrs. David N. Roller of the former group, and Mrs. T. J. Newcomb of the book club, were hostesses for the tea.

Mrs. Louis Bromfield introduced the speakers, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jelliffe of Karamu House in Cleveland. Mr. Jelliffe traced their work from the humble beginning in Negro settlement work to the present time when they have a staff of 50 working for and with them. Mrs. Jelliffe explained the mechanics of Karamu House.

In 1920 the Jelliffes decided that the arts were the best bridge to link the Negro with the American civilization. They started with the theater, using it as a medium of expression for the people and to tell the Negro story to America. This adult group, called the Gilpin Players, was the first Negro theater group in America and has become highly successful.

There are five groups of adult players, one of which is comprised of blind persons who learn their roles by Braille. The second field chosen by the Jelliffes was the graphic arts, in which they retain the particular racial quality of the Negro people and do not try to smother it. Mrs. Jelliffe displayed many lovely paintings, ceramics and jewelry made by the group at Karamu House.

In the educational field, as supplements to the public school system, Mr. and Mrs. Jelliffe and their staff members teach through the children's contact with the community, rather than through text books. The speakers stated that their biggest problem at present is juvenile delinquency, resulting from the war. With parents away from home for war work and service, children do not have the proper supervision.

The next meeting of the Tuesday Book club will be held Oct. 27 at Westbrook Country club. Mrs. George Kirtley will be hostess and luncheon will be served at 1:15 p. m. Mrs. Paul Bovard will entertain the Wednesday Study club on Nov. 6. For the program, Mrs. Philip Corey will review Joseph Newman's book, "Goodbye, Japan."

On Wednesday, activities will begin with the club presidents' breakfast and reports. Discussion of "Our Departments at Work" will be presided over by Mrs. Wilbur K. Jones. Mrs. C. Goldthorpe, state vice president, will speak on "A WAAC or a WAVE on the Home Front." Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff of Rocky River will give a book review.

There will be a surprise program following the "Victory Luncheon." Special music also will be presented. Reservations are to be made no later than Oct. 15 with Mrs. A. J. Robinson, Denison avenue, Elyria.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)
By ADELE GARRISON

MY FATHER put his finger tips together, in the judicial manner known to his intimates.

"Yes, I do," he said. "Our proof is her appeal to the man to tell her about Marion, before he had warned her that we probably were listening."

"But one problem remains. How strong a hold on her has this gangster? Is it enough to make her try to get in contact with her associate, as he demanded just now? What do you think?"

"I cannot tell you that yet," I said. "But I am sure her defiance has broken down, and she realizes that we are her friends."

New Task for Madge

"Which proves, Margaret," my father said, "that you are the only one who has any chance of finding out the secret she is guarding."

"I am afraid I can't do that yet," I said slowly. "Perhaps I can make her see that the surest way of having her secret revealed is to obey the instructions of this gangster by getting in touch with his associate."

"I have no doubt he made her believe that Marion's life depended upon her playing the game with him, but now she knows he is helpless, and may listen to reason."

"But to induce her to tell the secret—an entirely personal one, I am sure—which she shares with this gangster—that is another matter."

"I do not think it is wise for you even to try to get that out of her," my father said, to my great relief. "If you can eliminate the danger of her trying to get away and meet this other gangster, that is all I wish."

"And now, daughter, it is up to you. Where do you wish to talk to her, and when do you think she should go back to Weirhampton? You will not have to go with her, and I shall need you here, Richard and Miss Whitlock can take her back by train."

All Have Sympathy

"I should like to talk to her first here," I said. "Without anyone else present. If she reacts as I think she will, I should like then to take her back to the Underwood house to rest a few hours before she starts for Weirhampton. Ronald is suffering the agonies of the damned about her, and Lillian will be indefinitely relieved to know that we have misjudged Carolyn, who will need all the sympathy she can get."

"I think your plan is a wise one," my father said, "and we will put it into effect immediately. When you go back in, send Miss Whitlock out to Richard and me."

As my father conducted me back to the sitting room, Dicky gave my

A BAD SUIT TO BREAK

Making the first lead, in a suit which has the queen opposite the partner's jack, is often costly to the side which does it. If the side holding those cards makes the first lead, it gets no trick in the suit, if the ace and king are in different hands, unless it also has a well-located ten or nine. If, however, the opponents lead it, then the jack or queen is surely promoted to top rank for the third round.

That contract got four different kinds of play at four duplicate tables, only one declarer making it, though the lead was always the spade 4 to the 10.

The first declarer then led the heart 8 to the J and K, the spade 3 and the K and then broke clubs with the 5 to the J and K. Fearing other returns, South put dummy in with a diamond, five tricks there ensuing. Declarer then had to lead clubs again. He used the 6 to the 10, a heart return gave North the Q and A, and the club A set it.

At another table dummy followed the spade 10 with the K and then led a club to the J and North had to play his heart A. For exit he used a diamond, but after five tricks there dummy sent the club J to the K. South returned the 10, to avoid leading into East's set-up spade and heart. West played low and North naturally cut. Now South had only major cards left, so East got the two tricks he needed to make his contract.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE
For Friday, October 16
GENERALLY adverse conditions are to be noted in this day's planetary positions. In all matters it is advisable to "play safe." It will be necessary to be cautious at every move, to resolutely use discretion and sound judgment, shunning temptations and reckless acts and words. Superiors, employers and those in high places are likewise disposed to be inconsiderate.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves beset by a series of difficulties, troubles and trials, unless they resolve to be discreet, vigilant and shun impetuous and rash conduct. In all relations in life this wariness may be demanded. Finances may need bolstering, new projects may be jeopardized, and the private affairs subject to quarrels.

A child born on this day may be difficult and hard to get along with, owing to its fiery and uncontrolled temper. Early training and discipline may avert misfortunes.

THEATERS

Saga Continues.

The inspiring story of one of America's beloved baseball players, Lou Gehrig, continues on the Ohio screen in "The Pride of the Yankees," starring Gary Cooper. Saga of determination and courage that stood the New York Yankees' first baseman in good stead when he became afflicted with an incurable malady, the picture deals with the behind-the-scenes story in Gehrig's life as well as his career on the diamond. Teresa Wright, Babe Ruth, the dancers Velez and Yolanda and Ray Noble's orchestra are in the cast.

Football Drama.

Frankie Albert's own life at Stanford university provides the story for "The Spirit of Stanford," the Madison attraction featuring Stanford's All-American quarterback. Placing as much emphasis upon football as a character builder as a crowd-pleaser, the film deals with a student who discovers that college is more than simply a football stadium. Mauguette Chapman, Shirley Patterson and Kay Harris are in the film that has several sizzling gridiron sequences. "Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror" with Basil Rathbone is the second attraction.

Sabotage Drama.

The labors of a brilliant young scientist to perfect an improved type of high explosive motivate "Powder Town," the Park attraction opening today. Victor McLaglen tops the cast and Edmond O'Brien and Dorothy Lovett have the romantic leads. O'Brien plays a physicist employed by a munitions enterprise honeycombed by saboteurs. "The Mad Monster" with Johnny Downs and George Zucco is the co-attraction.

Family Drama.

Bobby Blake, the eight-year old child star of "Our Gang" comedies teams with Dan Dailey, jr., and Donna Reed to present an interesting family story in "Mokey," the Ritz attraction. Bobby plays the title role, that of a little boy who persists in running away from home because he feels his parents misunderstand him. Lloyd Nolan in "The Man Who Wouldn't Die," is the co-feature.

HOME SERVICE CASES HIT HIGH

Red Cross Handles 184 To Break Record, Board Told at Meeting.

Home service cases handled by the Red Cross broke all previous records last month when they reached 184, it was reported at the October session of the Red Cross executive board.

Of this number 170 cases were in behalf of Richland county men in military service and their families, according to R. K. Clark, home service chairman. They covered emergency furloughs, social histories for hospitals at army and navy bases and reports of home conditions for military authorities. The previous monthly report had listed 135 cases, also an increase over preceding months. The chapter agreed to make "housewives" for soldiers at the request of the Richland Civic Victory committee and the work of making them will be continued under the supervision of Mrs. O. D. Felt. Miss Irene Bower, eastern area nurses' aid chairman, regarding nursing consultant, met with the local training course.

EASTWARD BOUND, U. S. A.—Out of Louisiana, through Mississippi, away from the aroma of Louisiana coffee. There's the state that will take a body blow from coffee rationing, if and when.

A New Orleans woman aboard tells the tale that tells the tale: The visitor from the North was asking his New Orleans friend how many cups of coffee he consumed daily. The answer: "Well, a cup when I wake up, then a cup at breakfast. Another at 11, then again at lunch. Then a cup or two during the afternoon, and then again at dinner. That's about all."

To which the Northerner gasped: "But doesn't it keep you awake?" The Orleansian drawled, "Well, it helps."

AMISH APPEAL

TO BRICKER ON SCHOOL RULING

Seek Right to Take Children Out of School After Grade Graduation.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Leaders of Amish communities in Wayne and Holmes counties whose forefathers fled Germany a century ago to escape religious persecution today prepared an appeal to Governor John W. Bricker for "relief" from prosecution under Ohio's compulsory school attendance laws.

Three Amish farmers are serving jail sentences in Wooster and another was fined $20 and costs recently by Justice O. C. Franks for refusal to send their children to high school at Fredericksburg. Officials of the state education department said today that the department has no jurisdiction and that in view of the clear intent of state laws, the only "relief" available to Amish communities would have to be an act of legislature.

The petitions circulated for signatures today will tell Governor Bricker that state laws requiring Amish children to attend high school are "a violation of our religious pledge."

"Our aim has been to keep our children in the rural schools," the appeal said. "We want our children to complete the eighth grade of school, and then we consider it a violation of our religious pledge to send our children to high school."

Education department officials explained that working certificates may be secured for children 16 years old excepting them, under certain conditions, from the general requirements of school attendance until 18 years old. The petitions said the children presently involved were "a trifle under 16 years of age."

"It is very exceptional to find an Amish child in high school," Robert L. Rohe, education department inspector, said. "They insist that since their children will be farmers, they are unable to benefit from education beyond the eighth grade. They seem to draw the line at high school."

Rohe said attorneys representing the Amish parents contended the children should be exempted from high school attendance under the state law permitting dismissal of children "incapable of profiting substantially by further instruction."

"There appears to be no legal authority for this interpretation," Rohe said, explaining that the provision was enacted nearly 20 years ago and interpreted to apply to "children of low mentality only."

Shut off water. Consumers in Bowman Section Won't Have Service.

City water consumers living west of Bowman street and north of the B and O and Erie railroad tracks will be without a water supply for two hours or more, beginning at 9 a. m. Friday when the waterworks department shuts off the supply to repair valves on mains in the vicinity of the Bowman street bridge, at West Sixth street.

Residents of Lida, Grant and Harker streets also will be without water during the repair period. O. C. Kaubfleisch, waterworks superintendent said today that while making repairs last Friday workmen discovered several faulty valves which must be replaced before freezing weather arrives. The job should not require more than two hours, Kaubfleisch said.

INSPECT TWO CITY PROJECTS

Director, Engineer Find Work Progressing on Sewer Line, Raleigh Avenue Job.

Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff and Engineer W. C. Statler today were inspecting two city projects under construction—the East Fourth street intercepting sewer and the East Raleigh avenue improvement program.

Work on the sewer job is being carried out by WPA crews and the drainage system is designed to accommodate a large number of homes as well as industrial plants in that area.

The Raleigh avenue project is nearing completion although rainy weather has hampered the grading process. Construction of curbs and gutters has been completed.

Although originally planned as a 30-foot drive recent legislation by council, prompted by a petition from property owners on the street, reduced the width to 28 feet.

No difference in costs will be entailed, Statler explained, as much as the contract under which R. D. Darling and Son operates, establishes the unit price basis and the contractor will receive pay only for actual labor and materials furnished rather than a fixed fee.

AMERICAN AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION REACHES 60,000 PER YEAR RATE

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—America's aircraft industry today is "on the threshold" of achieving President Roosevelt's goal of an annual production rate of 60,000 planes this year.

This was disclosed by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce which said that "there has been a huge increase" in the output of planes since Mr. Roosevelt revealed last May that the monthly production rate was 4,000.

While the Chamber did not make public the exact monthly figures, it said that from the standpoint of numbers "it is estimated that what was once a year's production of combat planes now is rolling out of American aircraft plants in a single week."

The Chamber reported that between Dec. 7 and Oct. 1 a greater number of war planes were turned out than were produced during the entire 16-year period prior to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

"Despite the stellar performance of America's combat planes, the aircraft manufacturers are perfecting new and improved types of fighters, heavy bombers, medium bombers, patrol bombers, dive bombers, torpedo planes which can fly higher, travel faster and spray more lead and destruction than the models presently in service," the Chamber said.

"There are more than a score of new types of warplanes now undergoing tests and check-ups."

Police Told Prowlers Active at Building Here.

Although police are inclined to scout the theory that saboteurs are involved, they are investigating a second report of prowling at the state-owned armory on Ashland road now occupied by Co. F, Third regiment, Ohio State Guard.

Capt. Glen L. Bierly told police that Edward Augenbaugh, caretaker, reported that while investigating strange noises in the building he noted a mysterious car near the building on several occasions.

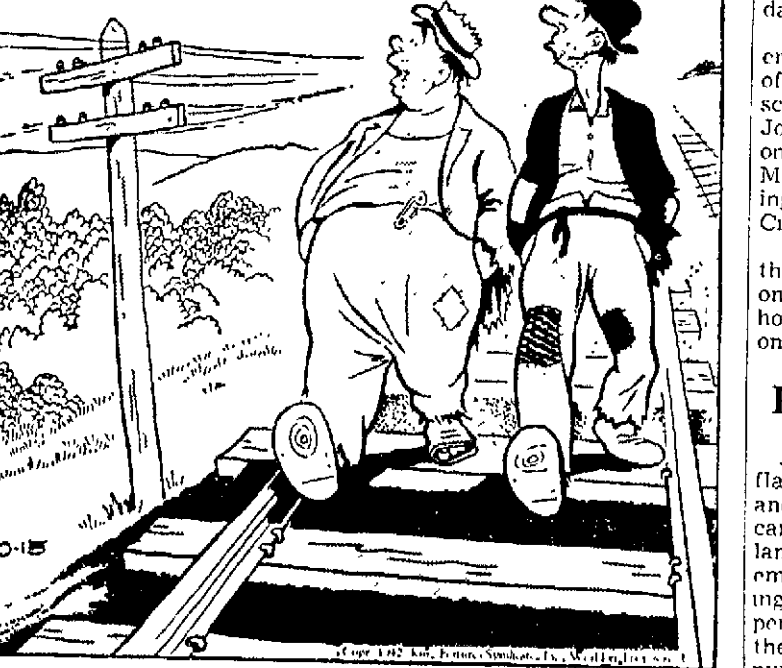

A woman who lives in a nearby trailer, told Lieut. Carl Kalstein and Patrolman Don Mitchell that two men emerged from the car and tried doors of the armory but that it was raining too hard for her to obtain an accurate description of the men.

Riot guns, ammunition and other armament issued to Co. F, are stored in the armory arsenal. Several weeks ago the caretaker reported that a door lock had been tampered with.

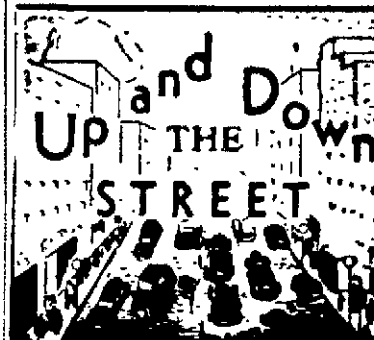

SHOWS DEFICIT BUCYRUS — Bucyrus municipal swimming pool cleared $135.90 during its first year of operation, according to figures presented by the park committee at its meeting Tuesday night. General park improvements however, make a deep inroad on park funds, leaving a deficit of $1,309.67 which city council will be asked to cover.

Laff-a-Day

Spaar.

"Somebody said they land on a dime! Wish I knew where it's coming down!"

There were not two local Yonah boys on the U. S. S. Vincennes, just one, Ora, petty officer, third class, now home on a furlough. But both Ora and his brother Harry, who lives at 351 Lome avenue, are having a fine time talking about the misunderstanding that resulted in Harry being named, instead of Ora, in a news story telling of the Mansfielder's experience when the Vincennes went down firing on Japanese vessels. Ora is visiting Harry for another few days and will report back to San Francisco at the end of his furlough. . . .

Leonard Nixon, 135 Park avenue east, is back at Fort Hayes, Columbus, where he started his military career in June. But Leonard is back of the much-maligned eight-ball. He was taken into custody yesterday by Detectives Lee Remy and Herbert Palmer at the request of military authorities who said he had been absent without leave from his New York state post five weeks. The truant soldier told the officers he was packing his old kit-bag to rejoin the service when they arrived. He came home, he said, to visit his mother and just neglected to start back. . . .

It is Major R. B. "Mud" Gardner now. The Mansfielder was advised of his promotion from a captaincy when he arrived back in the states a few days ago aboard the plane which brought Wendell Willkie home from a round-the-world tour of American and Allied Nations battlefronts. Gardner boarded the plane at Fairbanks and rode to Edmonton, Alberta, Canada with the 1940 Republican presidential candidate. . . .

Gardner presented the air force several months ago for his second World War service and affiliation with the American Legion elevating him to the post several years ago of state department commander. He now is stationed at the air base at Great Falls, Mont. . . .

DSC also announced it will purchase tubes, too, although regulations do not put a limit on the number a motorist may possess.

MOTORISTS TO GET LIMIT OF FIVE PER CAR

Prices Set For Purchase of Rubber Through Express Agencies.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The largest tire sale in the nation's history was underway today with only one buyer—Uncle Sam. . . .

The sellers were motorists everywhere with more than five tires, as the government called for every "excess" tire in an effort to keep America rolling. . . .

Uncle Sam was ready to spend $150,000,000, the amount advanced by the Defense Supplies Corporation which designated 160 warehouses throughout the country as delivery points. . . .

All a prospective seller has to do, the Office of Price Administration explained, is to ask the nearest office of the Railroad Express agency to send a truck to pick up his tires. The owner will receive a check, or war stamps, totalling from $1.50 to $11.25 depending upon the size and condition of the tire. . . .

The purchasing plan is connected with nation-wide gasoline rationing regulations which limit each private car to five tires. Rationing coupons, the OPA has ruled, will be issued to private cars only after the owners submit series numbers of their tires and certify they have no more than five for each automobile. The maximum penalty for false certification is a $10,000 fine and a 10-year prison term. . . .

OPA ceiling prices for used tires govern the amounts to be paid. The $1.50 minimum price is for a "fourth category" tire, one usable only as a basic carcass for retreading or recapping. The $1.15 maximum will be paid for a 7.00-16 "first category" tire. . . .

One-Shot Hypodermic Syringe May Prove Boon to Soldiers

(By United Press)
SEATTLE—Dr. Ralph L. Huber, Seattle dentist, has offered to the armed forces a hypodermic syringe which is designed to save human life or give relief from pain, but which is so simply constructed and cheap it can be discarded after once used.

The syringes are manufactured and loaded at the factory so rapidly they roll out like cigars. It is estimated they cost 14 cents each.

The device, if adopted, would place within reach of every wounded soldier the priceless sulphur drugs which are used to prevent infection, or a sedative to alleviate pain. It makes unnecessary, according to Dr. Huber, the intricate process of sterilizing needles, which is almost impossible except under the direction of a doctor or nurse.

Dr. Huber said qualified persons had told him that his invention means that only seven nurses are necessary now where ten were required before to sterilize the hypodermic needles after use.

Sterilized at the factory, the syringes are equipped with a swan, treated with disinfectant, and ready for use on the surface of the skin where the injection is to be made.

Medical officers of the army and navy are considering adopting the ingenious device. It is possible the first-aid kit every soldier and sailor will be equipped with one or more of the syringes.

By injecting fighting men with the sulphur drugs, Dr. Huber said it would prevent infection from wounds received on the battle field.

for as long as "three or four" days by which time the injured man would have received hospital care.

Theobromine and adrenalin can be injected for asthma and hay fever sufferers, and digitalis, carmine and adrenalin can be injected for emergency heart stimulation. Hemorrhage arrestors useable in the one-shot syringe include vitamin K solutions, fibrinogen, calcium solutions and contrain.

In-ulin treatments can be given with the syringe for diabetes, as well as such pain allowators as morphine, cocaine and "HMC."

LINE CATCHES PHEASANT
GREENFIELD, O. (U.P.)—George Willis went fishing and came back with a bird story. According to Willis, just as he cast his line into a creek, a pheasant flew out of some bushes and wrapped himself around the line. Willis pulled it in, took a tail feather for proof, and released it.

ITALIAN PRESS SAD COLUMBUS FOUND AMERICAS

Widely-Published Cartoon Asks

'What Made You Do It, Christopher?'

By LIVINGSTON POMEROY
(UP Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON — Columbus, though a native Italian, is no longer a national hero in Italy.

With 11 of the 21 American republics at war, the attitude in Italy is that Columbus should have remained at home and left the New World undiscovered.

Last year, even before the final break with the American countries, Italy launched a press campaign defaming Columbus on the anniversary of his epoch-making journey. Most of the fascist-controlled press published editorials attacking the policies of the American republics and generally labeling Columbus' discovery as a bad find. One cartoon which was widely published throughout Italy depicted a thin hungry-looking Italian looking up at a statue of Columbus and asking, "What made you do it, Christopher?"

The 450th anniversary of this discovery of America finds most of the Western Hemisphere, from Canada to Uruguay, either at war or not maintaining diplomatic relations with the Axis countries. During the first world war, nine American republics—Brazil, Costa Rica, Cuba, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama and the United States—declared war on Germany, while four other—Bolivia, Ecuador, Peru and Uruguay—broke off diplomatic relations with the central powers. Today only two American republics—Argentina and Chile—still maintain relations with the Axis, the others having either broken off relations or declared war.

So, if Columbus were to make his journey again, in 1942, he would have to run through both the United Nations and the Axis blockades. He also would find the world disagreeing about him, who he was, where he came from, what he discovered and what became of him.

According to Professor Luis Ulloa, director of the Peruvian National library, at Lima, Columbus made his first voyage to the Western Hemisphere with Danish corsairs. Professor Ulloa maintains that they sailed to the new world via Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Newfoundland. The general belief, however, still is that the famous navigator sailed from Spain and first sighted the Island of Guanahani—San Salvador—in the Bahamas, October 12, 1942.

Both Spain and the Dominican Republic claim that Columbus' remains lie within their borders. The Spaniards say his tomb is in the Cathedral of Seville and the Dominicans say he lies in the Cathedral at Santo Domingo.

A few years ago, the Italians entered the discussion and asserted that he was in neither Seville nor Santo Domingo, but that actually Columbus was buried in his native town of Genoa. They even brought forth documents to prove it.

With the entry of the American republics into the war, however, Italy dropped her claims and the Rome newspaper, "Il Tevere," carried an editorial stating that Columbus was of Jewish descent and that Italians had no reason to be proud of either him or his discovery—the New World.

ald, Mrs. George Gerhardt, and Eleanor Stone Smith.

ASHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells of Ashland are the parents of a son born Tuesday at Samaritan hospital.

GREYHOUND CHANGES ALL SCHEDULES ON OCTOBER 15TH to conform with new wartime regulations of O.D.T.

Throughout the nation Greyhound buses will start operating on new schedules beginning October 15—to conform with the new wartime regulations of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Although O.D.T. granted the bus lines 15 extra days to make this sweeping change, even this period is too short to complete the full rearrangement of a service that has transported over 85 million wartime travelers since Pearl Harbor. For a short period, until every detail of the new service is worked out, you may be inconvenienced on some occasions.

For instance, you may find that connections are not as well-timed as in the past—it may be difficult to get complete information about some trips—telephones at the Greyhound terminal may be congested with calls for last-minute details—new time tables may not be available. You may be sure, however, that Greyhound is doing everything possible to maintain its high standards of service under unusual conditions.

Yet on the whole, you may not find the change to the 35-mile-per-hour speed limit as marked as you might expect. For several months there has been a 40-mile-per-hour limit on all Greyhound buses—yet this has not prevented these buses from carrying half again as many passengers as ever before.

Now when every bus, every tire, every gallon of gasoline must be used to full advantage there are ways that you can help. Travel in mid-week when possible—take less baggage than usual—and get tickets and information in advance.

That occasional murmur heard around the North Central Ohio circuit the past several seasons—"Marion is too tough. Kick 'em out"—may be stilled tomorrow night, or it may swell to the crescendo of that former battle cry—"Mansfield is too tough"—which led to the Tigers' resignation from the N. C. O. some years back.

It all could depend on the outcome of the Marion-Ashland football game at Marion which should decide the league championship for 1942. Ashland hasn't won from Marion since 1936 when the A's chalked up a 12-0 victory. The next year they tied, 6-6, and since then scores in Marion's favor have been 30-0, 18-9, 12-6, 12-0.

Before that shift in the balance of power, Ashland had won eight straight games from Marion, from 1929 through 1936, but there was no cry then about Ashland being too tough. The wolves were out for Mansfield through most of that period.

The N. C. O. league has a valid excuse for reading Marion out of meeting, because of the fact that the Presidents have no suitable gym floor on which to play home basketball games.

Last year Marion travelled for all its cage games, keeping everyone fairly happy. With travelling conditions as they are this year, Marion probably will want to play some games at home, suitable floor or not.

Ashland believes it is going to win tomorrow night. It has a veteran, big, fast team. Its scores have been bigger than Marion has compiled, but the Presidents have played a higher class of opposition, meeting Columbus West and Lima Central while Ashland was taking on Willard and Norwalk in outside competition.

In league games Marion has defeated Mt. Vernon while Ashland has victories over Bucyrus and Shelby. Neither team was really tested in league tilts.

Ashland spirit this week is reported on a par with the enthusiasm which used to sweep the school the week before the Mansfield game, which implies that that spirit has been lacking since the suspension of the Mansfield-Ashland series.

And the rivalry has been further keyed up by the Marion Star's early nomination of most of the Harding team for all league honors, including the entire backfield, and the Ashland Times-Gazette's report that Ashland was still in the league, including its backfield.

There should be a lot of fun tomorrow night, neighbors, when the A's and the Prexies tangle.

NOTE TO BOWLERS—When league scores fail to appear on this page the day after matches are rolled, please check the cause before placing the blame. I understand I am getting the blame in some quarters for recent omission of scores, when, as a matter of fact, the scores were not turned in to this office in time to get them in type.

There's only one day, Saturday, when I may be forced to hold scores over until the following day. That's because of the rush of football news from Friday night. But I would have used the Moose scores last Saturday if they had been turned in in time.

Sammy Baugh Now Leads In Punting

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins, one of the National football league's top punters year after year, is back at his old position—No. 1 in the league kicking standings.

Baugh displaced Jack Jacobs, Cleveland's rookie star, who had been setting the pace since the season opened. Baugh has a 46.4 average, and Jacobs 41.3.

Parker Hall of Cleveland continued to lead in punt returns with eight and Bill Dudley of Pittsburgh in kick-off returns with seven.

LEADS SEAHAWKS—IOWA CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Cade Matt Bolger, end at Notre Dame last year, will captain the Iowa Seahawks against his former schoolmates, the Fighting Irish, Saturday.

Buckeyes Lead on Offense

Tulsa U. Takes Honors In All-Around Play.

By ARNOLD DERLITZKI
CHICAGO—(AP)—Ohio State, the nation's No. 1 football team in this week's Associated Press poll, also is the country's offensive leader, but honors for all around balance go to smaller Tulsa university.

Team figures from the American football statistical bureau today showed Tulsa, defending Missouri valley champion, runner-up to Ohio State in total offense, first in total defense, second to Columbia in forward passing, first in pass defense and fourth in defense against rushing.

The Golden Hurricanes achieved this record chiefly at the expense of service teams, defeating the Waco Army Flying school, 84-0, and Randolph Field, 68-0. But it also trounced Oklahoma, 23-0. They have gained 634 yards by rushing and 618 by passing for an average gain per game of 41.7 yards. Ohio State, which finished the 1939 season as the nation's No. 1 offensive team, has an average of 457.3 yards to show for its first three games this season. Of its total of 1,372 yards gained, 1,016 have been by rushing.

Tulsa had permitted an average of only 6 yards a game in total defense. Manhattan was second at 71, followed by Illinois (76.03) and Arizona, last week's leader (79.7).

Against forward passes Tulsa has yielded an average of 15.3 yards a game. Then came Arizona (22.7) and Illinois (23.3).

At throwing passes, the Golden Hurricanes were overtaken only by Columbia and its ace, Paul Gervani, who have averaged 250.3 yards to Tulsa's 206. Third was Georgia with 166.

Brown topped Ohio State in average yards gained by rushing with 346 in two games to the Buckeyes' 338.7 in three.

Punting honors went to the North Carolina Naval Pre Flight, which averaged 41.79 yards a punt.

Plan District Fight Tourney

Qualifying Bouts For Golden Gloves Needed.

A district qualifier for the Cleveland Golden Gloves boxing tournament will be held here this winter for novice and open class amateur fighters from Richland, Ashland and Crawford counties.

Russ Gumbel, district A. A. U. commissioner, announced today.

Boxers from the district cannot enter the Cleveland tourney without first going through the district qualifier. It was decided at a meeting in Cleveland this week, attended by Gumbel.

The Cleveland tournament has been scheduled at the Arena Jan. 28-29, Feb. 1-5. It is expected the district tournament will be staged in the few weeks preceding those dates.

Gumbel reported two important decisions reached at the Cleveland A. A. U. meeting:

1—Amateur status of athletes entering service is frozen for the duration of the war, regardless of the type of competition entered

Make Bids for All-American

Mid-October finds the dozens of contenders for All-American rating going at top speed. As the season moves along each knows he must add to his reputation every Saturday or surrender his hopes. Here are several players whose performances to date tab them as real threats:

Bill Henderson, Texas Aggie end, made the third All-America last season. His play in early games stamps him as a contender for top honors this year.

Minnesota's George Franck in 1940, Bruce Smith in 1941 earned top rating. Now the Gophers say Halfback Bill Daley is just as good, perhaps better than those standouts.

Wisconsin's Dave Schreiner, 1941 All-American end, hopes to repeat. He starred against Notre Dame, caught three touchdowns passes against Marquette.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Wanta be an athlete? . . . Probably not, but Dapper Dan Ferris, the A. A. U. secretary-treasurer, has an idea that may get you out there yet trying to show that you're a healthier specimen than Joe Jones over in the next block.

The plan is simply to arrange a series of tests in various sports, such as track and field, basketball, etc., in each community, with standards set low enough that almost anybody can get by after a little practice. They'll be arranged according to age groups. . . . After you pass the test in your community and receive a suitable award, you can go on to county, state and national tests. . . . The main idea, Dan explains, is to catch you when you're not looking and make you healthier.

QUICK KICKS.
So we won't be accused of picking sure things, this dept. no longer will list the navy pre-flight schools among the likely football winners. Consider that one automatically and don't count 'em in our average (now 634). . . . Here are this week's picks: Colgate over Duke and Duquesne over North Carolina; Harvard over Dartmouth, Penn over Princeton, Indiana over Pitt, Michigan over Northwestern, Alabama over Tennessee, Georgia over Tulane, VMI over Maryland, Oklahoma over Kansas, Texas over Arkansas, TCU over Texas Aggies, UCLA over California.

McCarthy Fires Yankee Trainer
NEW YORK—(AP)—Erie V. (Doc) Painter, trainer of the New York Yankees baseball team for 13 years, charged today that Manager Joe McCarthy dismissed him "without any explanation."

"The first I knew of it was a letter from McCarthy so I went to Buffalo and asked him if anything had been wrong with my work," Painter said. "All I got was a promise to recommend me to other clubs."

Big 10 Nears Use of Frosh

Lowering of Draft To Force Policy Change.

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Western Conference, which let down the bars on intercollegiate freshman competition at its spring meeting, may be forced to permit use of freshmen on varsity football and other varsity teams in view of the proposed draft of 18-19-year-olds.

Doug Mills, athletic director at the University of Illinois, said "when the time comes, I am sure the conference will let the bars all the way down for freshmen, particularly if it means keeping the program of physical fitness going."

"Unless the government orders otherwise, college football will continue next year 'even if our boys of 18 and 19 are drafted,'" John L. Griffith, conference commissioner, declared.

Intimating the probable use of freshmen in 1942, Griffith asserted: "But we will have to get along with boys under 18 or some 'old men' 24 years of age."

And even if the quality of the 1934 team isn't as good, more important, Griffith said, was "the benefits derived by the boys in getting ready for military life."

"The quality may not be so bad at that," he added, pointing out that the current season has been a surprise. "Few of us thought there would be so many good teams," he said.

'Bama Favored In Close Game

Rival Coaches Put Out Usual Bear Stories.

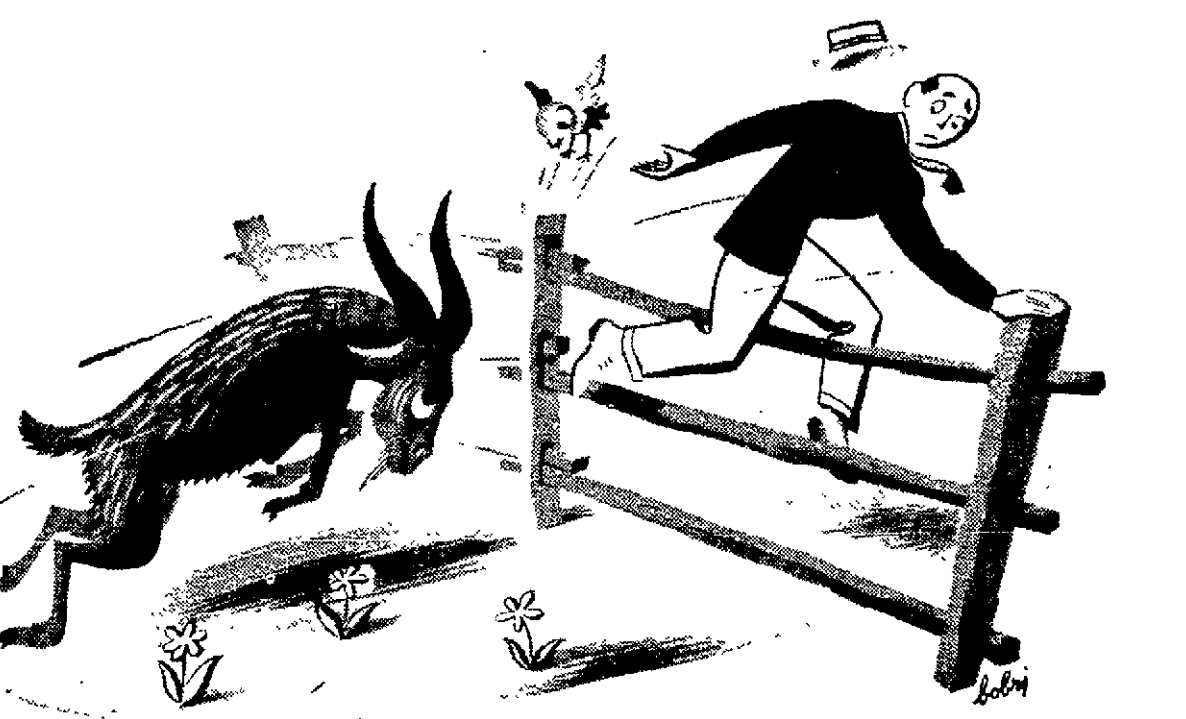

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Listen to the moans of rival coaches concerning the Alabama-Tennessee football game, and you will conclude that both these Southeastern conference powerhouses will be soundly beaten in their Saturday contest here.

Since that is not possible, some 24,000 fans will jam Legion field, most of them willing to string along with the victor as the likely 1942 conference champ.

Alabama is heavily favored in betting, with Tennessee supporters being offered six points or 8 to 5 odds, chiefly because of that veteran Tide line.

At Knoxville, the Vols' Coach John Barnhill says Alabama is two touchdowns better than Tennessee and "that old Alabama line is likely to crop up again" in a "devil of a game." He adds that his club "has been flatter than a flatiron" in pre-game sessions and "won't have a ghost of a chance unless blocking improves."

A SCRAPPY highball would be no pal, either—

that's why Imperial is

"velvety"*

*Taste why it's America's fastest-growing whiskey!

*"Velvety"—for extra smoothness! Like Imperial's rare base whiskies, its choice spirits are made in the world's largest distillery—then "velvety" by a method similar to the softening of spirits used in making fine Scotch.

*"Flavor-peaked"—for extra richness! This superb American blend has that expensive, "imported-whiskey" flavor because its foundation whiskies are specially distilled to give them individual qualities—then blended together to a delicate "flavor peak." Today—try the whiskey that's "great—for two big reasons!"

School Sports Continue

Little Curtailment of Program Anticipated.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gasoline rationing goes into effect Nov. 22, but will cause little curtailment of Ohio's 1942-43 high school basketball program, Commissioner H. R. Townsend predicted today.

The chief of the state's scholastic sports setup said he thought the county, sectional, district and state tournaments would go through on schedule, with the finals in both class A and class B being played in Columbus.

"Although a final decision will not be made until the Nov. 21 meeting of the state board, I believe the state meet, with four finalists competing in each class, will be held in a single day at the Columbus auditorium," Townsend said.

With the army having taken over the state fairgrounds, making the huge coliseum unavailable, Ohio State university has shifted its home games to the downtown auditorium, which seats about 3,500.

"We'll probably play four tournament games in the afternoon with the two championship events at night," Townsend said.

Last season 1,355 high schools (239 in class A and 916 in class B) played basketball in Ohio, 25,318 boys making up the varsity squads. Townsend said practically that many would be in action this year, although several counties, including Brown, Adams and Athens, had decided to abandon league play for the duration.

"Transportation will be strictly a private car proposition," Townsend said, "but since most of the schools will cancel their second-team contests, a single auto will be able to handle most of the varsity squads."

"I expect most of the schools to curtail their schedules through eliminating home-and-home games, meeting each opponent only once. In the cities, where the transportation problem is not acute, the entire city loop schedules probably will be played out, with some of the out-of-town games being crased."

"Just what effect the gas rationing, with its attendant transportation problem, will have on attendance is problematical. I expect it to show quite a drop, since the crowd which generally accompanies the visiting clubs will drop off."

Townsend said Indiana's high school principals, by a vote of 501 to 26, had ordered basketball continued as usual in the Hoosier state.

"Our basketball will be slowed down a bit, probably," the commissioner went on, "but we'll not doubt string along and do the best we can, just as Indiana is doing. Those 25,000 kids are entitled to play, and we're going to do everything possible to allow them to play."

Townsend said he had been notified by several schools that they had cut their pre-tourney schedules to six games, a drastic slash from last year's program in which a majority of the squads played at least 18 in preparation for the championship events.

TINY THOMPSON RETURNS TO CAGE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Tiny Thompson, whose ability as a goalie during his years of service in the National Hockey league is attested by his winning the Vezina trophy four times, is coming out of retirement to help brother Paul.

Paul, manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, hasn't got a capable goalie to start the season. Tiny, for years a star with Detroit and Boston, is going into the Royal Canadian Air Force but he has advised Paul that until he is called he would be willing to don the pads and guard the Hawks' goal.

HASSETT APPLIES FOR MARRIAGE LICENSE

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—(AP)—John A. (Buddy) Hassett, 30-year-old New York Yankee first baseman, and Miss Veronica Mackin, Jersey City dancer, had an application on file today for a marriage license.

The couple applied for the license yesterday. Miss Mackin said they would be married Sunday at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church.

FIGHTS OVERCONFIDENCE

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Coach Paul Brown took on a difficult assignment today as he pointed the Ohio State Buckeyes for the Purdue game Saturday. Besides trying to perfect a defense against the Boilermaker attack, Brown considered it even more important to prevent overconfidence sweeping the Buckeyes.

FINDLAY WINS

FINDLAY—(AP)—A 15-yard, first period field goal by End Paul Shaffer proved the margin of victory as Findlay college gridgers defeated the Wright-Patterson field eleven 9 to 6 here last night. Fullback Frank Gren plunged for Findlay's touchdown in the second quarter. Charles Perkins, fullback, scored the Soldiers' touchdown on a 40-yard punt returned in the third.

Massillon Boy Leads Purdue

Brown's Ex-Quarterback Captains Boilermakers.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A former football pupil of Coach Paul Brown of Ohio State university will lead the Purdue Boilermakers against the Buckeye eleven here Saturday in a game that may decide the Big Ten leadership.

Coach Elmer Burnham of the Boilermakers selected Vince (Rocky) Snyder, a former quarterback on one of Brown's great Massillon high school teams a few years back, to captain the Purdue squad Saturday.

Purdue and Ohio State each has one Big Ten victory in the bag this season, and the victor Saturday will be sure of a first place berth in the conference race. Illinois, also boasting one conference win—that historic upset of Minnesota—can grab a share of the leadership, however, by downing Iowa.

Purdue beat Northwestern last week, a 7-6 upset. Ohio's triumph came at the expense of Indiana two weeks ago by a 32-21 count. Despite the game's unimportance in the conference race, a "slim" crowd of 40,000 is expected. Many school children, who were to be guests at the game, will be unable to attend because of transportation limitations.

SEEKS WINGMAN

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Coach Bo McMillin today was seeking a left end replacement for Ted Hunsap who suffered a leg injury yesterday when the Indiana Hoosiers were drilling for the Pittsburgh battle Saturday.

We've had hundreds of readers asking us about the Community Survey.

Some have wanted to know what sort of information we want.

Some have wanted to know how the awards will be given out.

Well, it's all very simple.

We will ask you to write down 3 words each day. At the end of each week, you will send in your answer Form with those words written on it.

Now certainly that's easy enough, isn't it?

What will it accomplish?

Well, we will take all of your answers and arrange a big chart on which we will mark down (just like in an election) which selections you voted for. Then we mark down on that same chart the selections of the next reader. We proceed with this until we have marked on our chart the selections of all the readers who are helping us to get this information.

Naturally, there will be difference of opinion. As the fellow said, "that's what makes horse races." If there wasn't difference of opinion in this world, we might all wear overalls and eat the same kind of breakfast food.

When we have finished marking on the chart the choices of each reader, we count up the result. In that way, we learn which choices the most readers preferred. That gives us an exact answer as to what is liked by the most readers in the community.

What is this information we want? Well, we won't try to tell you all about it all at once. After all, isn't it fun to wonder?

We take from our charts each week the decision of the entire community as it is accurately given by counting which selections received the most favorable votes. That hasn't been any decision of three "expert" judges. That is an absolutely accurate decision delivered by the entire community and arrived at by pure arithmetic.

When we know the choices that the most people voted for, we have some very important information and we also have the completely accurate "correct answer" to be used that week. The dozen or more readers whose answers that week showed good judgment by choosing the same selections that the majority of readers had voted as best will get the awards for that week.

What is this information we want? Well, we won't try to tell you all about it all at once. After all, isn't it fun to wonder?

NEW LONDON COACH WOUNDED IN ACTION

NEW LONDON—Lt. Vic Malinovsky of the United States Marines, coach of New London high school athletic teams in 1939 and 1940, has been severely wounded in action in the Solomon Islands, according to word received here from the Navy department. No details were given.

Malinovsky came directly to New London from Miami university where he graduated in 1939 after starring in football for three years. He succeeded Dick Meyer, and was in turn succeeded by the present coach, Elmer Crabbe, when he enlisted in the marines.

Just Buy a Horse And Lose Money

NEW YORK—(AP)—You don't have to bet on the horses at race tracks to lose money. You can achieve the same result by buying them.

Mrs. H. H. Nimkoff made a claim for Jup Nancy before the field went to the gate in the third race at Jamaica yesterday. She posted $1,200 to bind the transaction.

Jup Nancy, the favorite, broke down during the race with ruptured tendons and had to be destroyed.

Mrs. Nimkoff literally paid $1,200 for a dead horse.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1942.

A Nazi or a Jap victory would spell the death of liberty everywhere in the Western Hemisphere. And something else would die—an intangible something which has been taking shape gradually over the years, as the peoples of the New World have been groping for a special destiny all their own.—Henry A. Wallace.

Willkie Promises 'Report To Nation'

NO ENCOURAGEMENT to forecasters of quick or easy victory can be seen in conclusions reached by Wendell Willkie after his 31,000-mile round-the-world trip as the special representative of President Roosevelt.

The three-fold purpose of the trip, as stated by Mr. Willkie, was to demonstrate to Allied countries and to neutrals the unity of the United States; to accomplish "certain things" for the president, and to gather information for himself, and for the American people, regarding the war and how it can be most quickly won.

A Willkie statement which needs firm fixing in the minds of all is: "I do know—because I have found out at first hand—that a lot of us, including public officials, are going to have to stretch our muscles and our minds before we win."

Willkie continues insistent on second front action at the earliest possible moment and contends that his position is based on beliefs of military men with whom he has talked.

His next move, he says, will be to make a "crystal clear" report to the American people on his observations in the various countries visited, for the purpose of helping "in this new job which we all face, of re-educating ourselves to win this war and to win the peace."

Whatever may be thought of Wendell Willkie in the field of politics, it may be doubted if a keener observer or more intelligent analyst of national and world conditions, from the civilian viewpoint, could have been chosen for this task, and his "report to the nation" will be awaited with interest.

Good Showing By School Children

EVIDENCE of the effectiveness of concerted action is seen in the fine showing being made by Mansfield school children in the scrap metal collection now in progress.

It has always been known that young people are tireless workers at anything in which they become enthusiastically interested, and present recognition that by collecting scrap metal they can play an important part in winning the war provides an incentive for whole-hearted effort—with addition of a competitive feature which also serves to heighten interest among both adults and children.

Participation of school children in the scrap collection drive, here and all over the country, makes it possible to assemble thousands of tons of needed metal from small quantities that might otherwise have been overlooked—but all of which adds up to an impressive total.

An Estimate of Congressmen

HERBERT AGAR, journalist and historian, has some remarks about congress which are worth remembering, while choosing some new congressmen. "What place can be found for congress," he asks, "in a world which is compelled to be first-class or to be nothing? Our government as we are conducting it is not good enough. This is no day to permit expensive travesties of democracy. The people demand simplicity and openness and high-mindedness. They are given 'politics as usual.' They ask for the bread of a true democracy, and are given a stone which is not only inedible but moldy."

The trouble, it is fair to say, is not with congress but with certain congressmen. If the voters look into their records and judge them apart from political considerations, it will not be impossible to bring congress up to the needs of the hour.

Chewing Gum Shortage Looms

NOW it's a chewing gum shortage that has bobbed up in some parts of the country, although the local situation is not yet sufficiently acute to justify a rush for remaining stocks. A man in New York City tried five stores the other day before he could get a package, and a man in Reno, Nev., reports that he tried fourteen stores in vain before picking up a package at the fifteenth.

A chewing gum executive has just made a survey of the country and finds that shortages exist in Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, San Francisco, Oakland, Portland, Seattle, Minneapolis and St. Paul as well as New York.

Where does it all go and who uses it? The armed forces use a great deal. It relieves thirst and is now included in certain army rations, especially those planned for jungle warfare.

Workers in factories where smoking is not permitted also use it in great quantities. It substitutes for cigarettes, and serves to relieve what is called a "false thirst" which keeps men running to the water fountains for small quantities of water, thus delaying production.

But if it is chewing substance that is desired, instead of mere flavor, it is interesting to note that one "wad" of gum can be made to last indefinitely.

Less Individuality In Millinery

MEN may regard it as a minor matter—but not their wives! As a wartime measure, women's hats are to be standardized—at least to a certain extent. So there'll be danger of two—or several—women at a party, or in a public gathering, wearing identical hats... which, heretofore, has been considered quite awful.

Shortages of materials needed for diversification are already being noted, but just how soon standardization of hat models may be expected is a millinery secret.

Voliva, whose favorite pastime was predicting the end of the world, has now passed on—but a Swiss seer now places the fateful event on the calendar for next December, so that's taken care of.

Announced intention of the Allies to administer justice to Axis bandits after the war indicates that there'll probably be a noose at the end of his rope when Hitler gets there.

A Missouri woman asks how she can vote against all the candidates—which evidences considerable thoughtfulness.

All men are born equal—or at parity, as it is now more commonly expressed.

Time to buy your October war bond.

TWO VIEWS OF THE SHORTHAND SITUATION

Pondering New Move By Lewis

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—To unify organized labor, provided it can be done at all, it's beginning to be argued among followers of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, that John will have to take personal charge of the whole job instead of attempting it in partnership with some other leader or two.

Lewis, a neighbor of mine at his home in Alexandria, Va., is an exceedingly likeable chap personally, but pretty positive in his ideas and strongly disinclined to make compromises with folk who dissent from any of 'em.

His UMW's original break with the American Federation of Labor was illustrative of it. The A. F. of L., headed by President William Green, and with which the UMW was associated, is organized on craft lines. That is to say, a single industry may employ several different crafts. For example, mining includes actual diggers, electricians, blacksmiths and others. The A. F. of L.'s system has been to unionize 'em independently of one another. John Lewis' thesis is that it's best to combine 'em, per industry, collectively.

He formed the Committee on Industrial Organization to effect the rearrangement. William Green's A. F. of L., however, balked. Thereupon, under John's direction, the UMW seceded from the A. F. of L., inviting labor groups generally to join, as members of what, to preserve the original C. I. O. initials, was christened the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

It was an important development in the labor field and, as a newspaperman, I kept a sharp eye on it, infesting UMW-CIO headquarters copiously.

Murray Takes Over. Among those closely identified with the movement was Philip Murray, a UMW vice president and apparently a 100 per cent

John L. Lewis-ite. Just why John didn't assume the CIO presidency for himself I don't exactly understand, but probably he considered it a detail that he thought he was too busy, as main boss, to bother with.

The difficulty was that Phil didn't long continue to be as compliant with John's orders as the latter evidently had expected. John, angered, so expressed himself. Phil sassed back. The upshot was that the UMW's leadership presently abolished Phil as a vice president of its own aggregation. In convention, subsequently, the whole UMW endorsed this dismissal and, furthermore, entirely severed its connection with the CIO.

Speculation's rife as to what will follow.

One theory is that Lewis' policy will reunite the A. F. of L. and the CIO.

This doesn't seem so certain, though. There still remains between 'em the issue of craft versus industrial unionism. Phil's as anti-craft and pro-industrial as John Lewis. Anyway, he's seemed so thus far. That wasn't the question that he and John differed on. Phil and Will Green apparently are as far apart on it as ever. John's accused of aiming at the creation of a brand-new, third labor outfit that he'll dominate completely.

And ultimately, it's assumed, his ambition's to assemble the total labor situation under his own personal thumb—no CIO, no A. F. of L.—a dictatorship, subject to himself alone.

Why We're Fighting

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THERE'S a resentful mutter in the air these days, a feeling that America is being done dirt in the war effort, and that most of the other United Nations are letting us carry the load. "E. F." would like to know the answer.

"Why," says she, "should we give our sons, brothers, sweethearts and husband to save Europe, particularly England. Europe has always been a seething pot of intrigue come to a head they all look to America to help them out."

"I don't believe in war—and I don't believe in helping other people to make war. We will never cure the human race of greed and hate by force. We must teach them the utility of bloodshed and show them how to live peacefully with each other."—E. F.

Many will applaud that letter, E. F. They, too, resent England's, Russia's and China's demands and feel that we're fools to defend them. But America is not defending the other United Nations, America is defending its own way of life, and that way of life is far more imperiled than you realize.

It is not imperiled because Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini wish to be world conquerors. It is imperiled because all human beings are exceptions. We like to preach and theorize but when it comes to downright discipline we let the other fellow take the rap.

We are quite sure that, since we are a democracy, we hold all the aces. But we are not really a democracy. We claim its noble name and we have profited by its institutions. But we are as beset with injustice, ignorance, intolerance, greed and cruelty as many a nation which we despise. And these despised tyrant nations have been building and training while we made merry.

Why are we fighting? That's why. Not to save England or restore France, but to preserve our own hides. We have done a lot of lovely talking and pinned many a shining medal on ourselves, but the truth is that we have let the forces of evil get the bulge on us and we'll be lucky if we come out of this fracas whole.

PEACE is a lovely thing but you can't achieve it with words. Peace must be won and maintained by force. Even Christ stopped sermonizing and laid on with the whip when He drove the money changers and parasites from the temple in Jerusalem. Also, you can't have peace, nor should you try to preach it, until you are willing to live it, which is one of the toughest jobs on earth.

And hard as it is to face the fact, we Americans have not lived peace. We have been at war with ourselves, with our own neighbor, our own workers, throughout our history. We have dreamed of

Interpreting the War News

Speedy Aid to Russia Necessary, Second Front Would Divert Axis

—By DE WITT MACKENZIE

LONDON—Stalingrad the magnificent continues not only to hold its ground but to muster the strength to counter-attack the Boche, thereby increasing the margin of the defeat which the Allied Nations are in the process of administering to the harried Hitler.

The stand of Stalingrad is one of the wonders of the world. Still, I believe we shall make a mistake if we allow our satisfaction to blind us to the cost of this defense and to how that cost might affect the speed with which the Allied war machine is traveling toward victory.

Of course, it is difficult to think of Stalingrad in terms of other than those of mountainous strength. But when the pic finally is written we likely shall find stark courage and willingness to die a greater defense than bullets.

In any event, while the Red armies have been hammering Hitler's boasted legions to bloody pulp the Muscovites themselves suffered grievously. Like the Germans, the defenders lost hugely in men, and material.

If there were the only drain, the Reds could stand it.

They have a wellnigh inexhaustible reservoir of manpower, and equipment is replaceable. That is equipment would be replaceable if the Soviet had not lost a heavy percentage of its vital industries in western Russia to the invader. The Muscovites have lost mineral resources. They have lost the Ukraine, the breadbasket of the Union, and so much other agricultural territory it may well be that Uncle Sam will have to ship food to them this winter.

True, Premier Stalin rushed fresh industries into being behind the mighty barrier of the Ural mountains. He has created new fields of grain. He is building a Russia within a Russia.

However, that doesn't replace the huge diversified industrial output or the oceans of golden grain which the Nazis have overrun. Nor does it alter the fact that the Red transportation system in western Russia has been disrupted.

In short, the Russian bear is faced with the prospects of living on his own fat this coming crucial winter unless fortune thaws the earth out a bit for him. There you have, I believe, the basic reasons for Moscow's insistence on the opening of a second front.

Well, they want it as soon as possible because, if they have to go through this winter fighting in the Caucasus against Hitler's full land strength, they will arrive in the spring without having had a chance to recuperate and repair some of the heavy damage they have suffered.

They want Allied action which will draw maybe 50 German divisions away from the eastern front quickly.

It is obvious that there is no military operation that would drain off such a great number of Nazi troops as an attack through western Europe.

I am putting this forward by way of information, not as argument. This column always has maintained that only the Allied high command is capable of judging when and where fronts should be opened. Civilians must abide by that.

We have been promised "second fronts" and assume they will be forthcoming at the earliest feasible moment in view of the urgency of the situation.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Now that all the tumult and the shouting has died down, let's examine the record for an answer to the one question that generally was overlooked: Why did President Roosevelt take that 9,000-mile trip?

Was it to find how the war production effort is really progressing? Certainly not. There isn't a time of day or night that the president couldn't call for certified production figures and give a more accurate percentage on production efficiency than he could by glancing over such plants as he could visit in a two-weeks tour.

Was it for political reasons? Hardly. Political tours aren't made in secrecy. We have the president's own word for it that he saw no state chairmen or political candidates; visited with only 11 governors (four of whom were Republicans); made no speeches. If his visit with former Vice President Garner has any political tinge, it could only be that the president and "Cactus Jack" were laying the ghost of an old political feud that no longer has any meaning.

Was it to get a finger on the pulse of the people? In some small measure, perhaps. But traveling 14 days by train, moving on secret schedules, riding in a closely guarded car, the president is not going to feel many more pulses than he is right here where the mail, visitors, editorial digests, and such keep him in constant contact with what is going on OUTSIDE Washington.

Any one or all of these interpretations may be, tagged onto the president's trip. Only the president himself knows really why he went and he doesn't need to explain. But the truth of the matter probably is just as simple as some of those who know him best make it sound.

In the first place, the president's need to get away from the daily routine of wartime in the White House must be apparent to any one who gives a thought to the fact.

Except for a dedication junket into Maryland, a few days at Hyde Park, and an occasional auto ride near the capital, Roosevelt has been his own prisoner of war since before Pearl Harbor. Early and late, day in and day out, he has gone through the daily White House round with never a change of scene to aid relaxation.

Add to this monotony, the great responsibility which falls on any chief executive in wartime and multiply it by stupendity of this global war.

That is something the president can't escape, no matter how many trains he takes, but by changing the scene, he perhaps has been able to readjust the load he's carrying.

AS FOR his reason for visiting production plants and training centers, those close to him have even a simpler explanation. The president's interest in production—whether it be of machines of war or of the trained soldiers and sailors who will man them in battle—is keen. He likes to see the wheels go around and to watch the assembly lines rolling them off.

Timely Editorial

Told, But Not Vouched For.

This story sounds too good to be true, but it is going around and we like it as well as you. It's about the bank clerk in Virginia who ran up to New York every week-end to do a job on the side. He would ferry a bombing plane over to England, catch the first air transport back and be back on Monday morning at his window in the bank.

One Monday morning recently he failed to show up at the bank. That's what the boys at the bank had been fearing. He couldn't always get away with it; his time would come, and now it had.

The telephone rang; Washington calling. Was this the bank where so-and-so worked? It was, and all hearts descended into shoes. Well, this was to notify the bank that when he got to England Saturday night he found the boys starting an air raid over Europe and went along; so he would be a day late getting back to the bank.—Springfield News.

Man About Manhattan

Broadway Bonanza

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Broadway is having a new gold rush, with Saturday night crowd comparable to those of New Year Eve's. Summer business in the night clubs and theaters was far above the average, but with the advent of fall the flow of spending money has become a Niagara.

Hit plays are selling seats weeks and months in advance, and night clubs are getting hard to crack without reservations. A lot of the money is being spent by week-enders from Washington, while some of it arrives in New York circuitously via executive offices of defense plants scattered throughout the country. Service men having that "one last spree" also are figuring heavily in the amusement trade's jackpot.

A bit ironically, the places which are benefitting most are having a tough time raking in the money, because of enlistments. Good waiters are at a premium, and the wages of busboys and bellhops aren't big enough to hold those who have a chance at war industry jobs. Female hotel help also is being affected.

Many of New York's chambermaids and waitresses are wives and daughters of Pennsylvania miners, adding to the family income. But now with the mines working at full speed, the husbands are making good money, so the wives and daughters go back home.

SMALL hotels felt the influx of spending visitors soonest, of course, but now the class hotels are filling up and getting more of that lucrative private-party business.

One of the largest one-man parties recently was given by Col. Charles F. H. Johnson, president of Botany Mills, who had as his guests at the Biltmore the 300 members of the cast of "This Is It!"

A Farmer's Diary

Mid-October

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

EACH frosty morning, after a sunup the meadowlarks' sweet strains of song come from the meadow pasture, and the slope. Sometimes from deep seclusion in the grass or clumps of weeds; sometimes high on the wing; sometimes from some rude post or old worm fence, their unmediated, liquid melody overflows upon the valley.

They seem to have distilled into their ecstatic song the tranquility of the morning, the murmur of the meadow brook, the strength of the towering hills, the sparkle of millions of drops of sunlit dew, the sheltering deep blueness of the sky.

I would not wish to let the melodies of such a morning pass without it becomes a living part of me—a strange delightful part of my inmost self—a lovely lit of earthly sound that gives a touch of pain and satisfies.

DOTTED over hills and valleys, long prosperous rows of corn shocks stand, with here and there a row of golden piles of ears, against the fertile earth. Between the shock rows, lines of graceful tender wheat are growing green under the warming sun.

During quiet afternoons, the somber cattle lie at rest on beds of deep lush bluegrass and chew their cud. Above them float fickle painted butterflies and long glistening silken spiders' webs, on undulating currents. Rits of this: fledown and white fluff from the frost-opened milkweed pods, move majestically above the peaceful herd. In neglected nooks, dark purple ironweed blooms, the gen-tion peeps through its blue fringes at the sky, white and calico asters bow humbly along every roadside. Small maples, high on the sandy hill, are flames of red; the gum trees are a scarlet tower in the nearby woods; the ash a rich yellow glow. Across the soft green velvet of the lawn grass, brown leaves, red tinged, lie quiet, awaiting a day when cold wind will send them scurrying.

The southern slanting sun shines warm, and a south wind blows gentle vagrant puffs but fails to revive the tender garden flowers. In the woods the nuts are dropping.

mons, that the Japanese—if they ask for it—are in for the toughest fight of their lives when they try to take Guadalcanal from the U. S. Marines.

Regardless of the outcome of the present action, officials are convinced that because of the strategic importance of Guadalcanal the Japanese will attack again and again. Its capture by the marines represents the first time the Allies have retaken Japanese-captured territory. If the marines hold, it will be the United Nations' first step toward Tokyo.

The bombardment of the airfield and shore installations by enemy surface ships came on the night of Oct. 13-14.

The landings followed within 36 hours. There was every indication the landings were in force and that they were being carried out during daylight in defiance of any air or sea attacks the Americans may have sent against them—indicating a task force of considerable size.

Presumably the enemy was landing tanks and other heavy equipment.

Marine tanks have been mentioned in naval communiques, and a large-scale tank battle may be in the making on the jungle-covered South Pacific island.

The navy made no mention of American resistance either to the bombardment of the strategic airfield which controls the air in the Solomons, or to the landings. Whether the field was damaged too badly to offer air resistance was not disclosed. In the past, shore batteries have inflicted damage on occasional Japanese shelling occasions.

Meanwhile, there were unconfirmed reports from Australia that a big Japanese armada—said to include seven battleships, four carriers and an unknown number of cruisers—was heading toward the South Pacific. If that report is true, an all-out attempt to retake Guadalcanal can be expected, with a sea and air battle of major proportions in the making.

Fortresses Blast Rabaul Again

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA—(AP)—Flying fortresses left the whole airbase area alight with fire Wednesday in the fourth heavy pounding they have dealt Rabaul, Japan's key base on New Britain, in eight days, returning fliers said.

The lead plane dropped flares which lit up Lakans and Vunakanau airbases, flanking Rabaul's crescent-shaped harbor. The other fortresses dropped their cargoes of destruction square on the illuminated targets and then they all came home.

The returning fliers, shaking limbs out of their cramped-up legs after the 1,000-mile round trip, said that no enemy fighters molested them and that both searchlight and anti-aircraft fire were weaker than they had encountered on the three previous raids since Oct. 5.

The whole force returned without a scratch on a ship or a man.

Aussies Cross Hump Of Mountain Range

GEN. MARTHAUS HEADQUARTERS, Australia (AP)—Australian troops advancing like human flies around and over precipitous bluffs have crossed the 6,000 foot hump of the Owen Stanley mountains, it was announced today.

They are now nearing Templeton's crossing, just on the northern side of the Kokoda pass, advancing at the rate of a few hundred yards a day over the worst part of the entire trail between Port Moresby, the Allied base on the south New Guinea coast, and Buna, the Japanese invasion base on the north coast.

Boy, 14, Used Bed Blanket to Flee Detention Home

Emulating the bold, bad men of fiction and fact who make thrilling escapes from detention institutions a 14-year-old Lexington boy fled from the Salvation Army citadel last night via a bed blanket ladder.

Taken into custody by police Tuesday night, the youth was being detained for action by the juvenile division of probate court. He apparently didn't want any part of that program.

Knocking a corner of his blanket around a bedpost, he pushed out the screen in a window of his second-story room and slid to freedom.

Lieut. Carl Kalstein and Patrolman Roeliff Hout were unable to find trace of the youth.

Weather Causing New Stalemate On 30-N Project

With one 24-foot concrete pavement virtually completed between the B. & O. and Erie railroad grade separations on U. S. Route 30-N, work practically was at a standstill yesterday and today due to rain, according to R. W. Williams, resident engineer for the Lombardo Brothers Construction company.

Rain also has repeatedly hampered the water-proofing of the Erie overhead structure, which must be done before the tracks can be transferred to the new right-of-way, Williams said.

Further delay has been caused, Williams claimed by insufficient priority ratings on the job. It was declared. Federal and state officials have made no efforts to have the rating changed, he said, with the consequence that when he attempts to buy new tools, etc., dealers will not provide them on the present priority rating basis.

Completion of the water-proofing phase of the Erie job must be completed before trackage can be moved off dirt needed to complete the fill between the B. & O. and West Fourth street, engineers say. It had been hoped that this part of the project would have been completed by the end of last week.

Recently state highway department and Erie railroad maintenance engineers declared they could see no reason why Lombardo Brothers couldn't complete the job before the Nov. 30 deadline.

Vance T. Grimes, Ashland, division state highway engineer, indicated he is inclined to recommend the 90-day extension asked for by the Lombardos.

Two weeks ago paving machinery was moved onto the job by Howard Herring, contractor, following completion of a Route 42 job in Medina county.

No one can say now when the job will be done, Williams said today.

SOLDIER HURT

Sgt. Dale Rowan In Island Hospital, Wife Told.

Seriously injured when the car in which he was riding in a southwest Pacific island was sideswiped by an army truck, Sgt. Dale Rowan, Mansfielder in the 37th Division, is recuperating in an island hospital following a spinal operation.

Word of the accident was received here today by Mrs. Rowan, art and music teacher at Hedges school, in a letter written by Capt. Robert Springer, another Mansfielder in the division. The letter said that the operation was successful and that Rowan "would be good as new in six months."

Springer explained that Rowan had been paralyzed from the waist down prior to the operation and that he would soon be able to occupy a wheel chair. Three other army men were with Rowan at the time of the accident. One of them was Capt. Donald Gaa of Bucyrus who had received four rib fractures.

OBsolete SUBS USED FOR SCRAP

Six Ships Rusting In Navy Yard Will Go To Wars Again.

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Six obsolete submarines, built before 1921 and which have been rusting in a basin at Philadelphia Navy Yard today were on their way back to the wars.

The subs, totaling 4,430 tons, will be turned over to the Northern Metals company as scrap, a navy yard official said.

One of the submarines, the O-1, built in 1917, is a sister ship of the O-9, lost off the Isle of Shoals on June 20, 1941.

The other five are the S-3, S-6, S-7, S-8, and the S-9. The S-boats weigh 790 tons each, while the O-boat is a mere 480-ton vessel.

This put up to county authorities the problem of how they are going to pay for meals for hungry jurors, there being no cash in the exchequer and no more credit from the restaurateurs.

One restaurant reportedly is holding a little tab of $6,000 for jurors' meals.

ARMY TO SPEED RATE OF DRAFT

Will Call 1,100,000 Men By Jan. 1, Married Men To Be Taken In.

have been made and are being filled by local boards.

Beginning with the December quotas, he said, "the great majority" of inductees in the following three or four months would be those in the teen ages, but thereafter selective service again would face the necessity of calling men with secondary dependents and wives only.

Hershey said lowering the draft age would be more beneficial to agriculture (than to industry, because more of the 18-19 class are engaged in industry and would be drafted in the place of older men now going from farms to service). Asserting that so far as selective service was concerned a man married after last December 8, when Pearl Harbor was attacked, isn't married, Hershey told the committee.

"This country and you will demand in the not distant future that something besides dependency or alleged dependency be the measure" for deferment.

"We're coming to the point where we are going to have to take men from places where they don't need them, and leave them in places where they do need them."

Advocates of the lower age limit heard in the opening sessions yesterday included Secretary of War Stimson and General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet.

Their case, in brief, was this: The United States must have the best army in the world. The average of American combat forces is rising steadily, to a point no longer acceptable to the war department. Youngsters with drive, dash and bounce are needed—and the 18 to 20 year group has what the army wants.

"The house, hastening to act on President Roosevelt's suggestion to cut the age minimum, hoped to reach a final roll call Saturday. The senate was not expected to vote on the selective service bill until next week.

To many senators and representatives, previously bewildered by conflicting reports, the most satisfying fruit of yesterday's hearings was definite information on the size of the army.

Stripping away secrecy, Secretary Stimson disclosed the goal was 7,500,000 men by Jan. 1, 1944, an increase of 3,250,000 above the 4,250,000 he said were now in service.

General Marshall emphasized that this force would be an integrated army of specialists designed to "keep the war out of the western hemisphere."

Hershey said even if the 18-year bill is passed speedily, about 100,000 married men will necessarily be called up next month, to meet previously established quotas.

Then, if the army keeps on calling for about 200,000 men a month, the 18 and 19 year olds will fill requirements until about April 1, 1943. For the next few months, the drafts would be about the same as at present. In the last quarter of 1943, Hershey said, it may be necessary to dip into the lists of married men with dependents.

'Teeners' Hurry To Enlist In Army

NEW YORK—(AP)—President Roosevelt's fireside chat Monday night asking the drafting of 18 and 19 year olds has caused a 100 per cent increase in enlistments in that age group in New York City, officials disclosed today.

Although no figures were announced, Col. Arthur V. McDermott, the city's selective service director, said that the majority of youths applying since the president's address expressed a preference for the navy.

tank-led attacks on Stalingrad's lines overnight and wiped out parts of two German battalions.

The heaviest fighting apparently still raged on the German left flank, above the city, where Marshal Semyon Timoshenko has been slowly driving a series of wedges into the Nazi protective barrier.

About 300 Nazis were killed in night fighting in that sector, Russian headquarters said, and Soviet guardsmen routed two German infantry companies attempting to regain lost ground.

Little change was noted on the two major Caucasus fronts, along the Black sea coast below Novorossisk and in the Mozdok sector 40-odd miles north of the Grozny oil fields.

On the central front, residents of Moscow marked the first anniversary of the Soviet capital's greatest crisis.

It was on the morning of Oct. 15, 1941, that Moscow was being evacuated under a tempest of German land and air attacks, and the fall of the city appeared imminent. Today the Nazis are back on their heels behind Moshaisk, hemmed by Red army troops crowding against the old Napoleonic "escape corridor" from both sides.

Other European war developments:

SECOND FRONT—DNE, the official German news agency, reported an increasing series of British Commando raids along the Nazi-occupied French coast in September and declared:

"It can be deduced that the British command intends to give way to the Soviet demand for a second front and to make Normandy the scene of such an attack."

AERIAL WARFARE—Hard-fighting defenders of Malta, key British stronghold in the Mediterranean, were officially credited with shooting down 23 more Axis planes over the island yesterday, making a four-day toll of "at least 65." Five RAF Spitfires were acknowledged lost.

The intensity of the attack on Malta suggested that the Axis was moving heavy reinforcements across the Mediterranean to North Africa. Coincidentally, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, who recently saw Hitler in Berlin, was reported to have returned to his post on the Egyptian front.

United States and Allied bombers have been repeatedly attacking the Axis supply port of Tobruk in the past few days, indicating that every attempt was being made to prevent a new influx of troops and supplies for Rommel's long-stalled armies.

Proposes Immediate Trial For Nazis

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Russian government, contributing Premier Stalin's view on punishment of Axis war leaders, proposed today that a special tribunal undertake at once to punish "any one of the leaders of Fascist Germany who, in the course of the war, has fallen into the hands of states fighting against Hitlerite Germany."

Rudolf Hess seemed to be the most important if not the only captive Axis adherent falling in the category of prisoners against whom immediate action was sought by Russia.

Hess, former deputy fuhrer, has been a British prisoner since May 10, 1941, when he parachuted to earth in Scotland, bearing what both Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill later said was an overture to Britain to make peace with Germany and join the Reich in war on Russia. The German attack on Russia started June 22, 1941.

The Russian proposal startled London. A British foreign office commentator said that "Hess became our prisoner on May 10 1941" and "of course while there were plenty of crimes" to be charged against the Nazi leaders prior to that date the atrocities affecting the Russian people and the majority of those against other European peoples occurred later.

Destroy German Supply Ship

LONDON—(AP)—The admiralty reported today that light British naval forces have intercepted and destroyed an important German supply ship in the English channel.

The communique reported that the action occurred early yesterday.

Strength of the escort provided for the supply vessel, said the admiralty, made it obvious that the Germans attached great importance to the safe passage of the vessel.

The ship had a big escort of torpedo boats and minesweepers, the communique said.

GRADES PUSH HARD TO WIN

'Little Ones' Put on Steam To Keep N-J Trophy From Senior High.

this morning at the scrap pile near his headquarters and went outside to find four Senior high boys busily loading scrap into a pick-up truck.

"We had no idea there was such a big pile in town that hadn't been collected," one of the boys said enthusiastically.

The dealer explained that he had already bought that scrap and it was ready for shipment to a war plant. They unloaded their truck and left without an argument.

The collection plan worked out by Principal Glen Robinson, at Hedges school was praised today by Salvage Chairman Stough.

Pupils at the school bring their scrap into their rooms with them in the morning. Then the fire bell is sounded and they march outside, participate in a flag-raising ceremony, and as the roll of grades is called, march past the scrap pile and throw their contributions on it.

Because of the inclement weather, the half-holiday for fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils was postponed again today. Principals of grade schools said a few pupils would be excused this afternoon to go with collection trucks, and that all the grade pupils may be dismissed Friday afternoon if the weather is satisfactory.

Pupils will make house-to-house calls to ask for scrap to take back to their school collections.

Stough said 10 tons of scrap had been collected last night from Mansfield business places and a large quantity remained to be picked up today. Six safes donated by merchants made a problem for the salvage chairman and his truckers who were wondering how they are going to get them out of basements.

The News-Journal trophy competition ends Friday night. The award will be made to the school which has collected the most scrap per pupil this week only. Schools that made a good showing last week will have a chance to win the "S" banner which will be awarded by Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller for the two-week period.

HITLER WILL 'MAKE SUICIDE' OLD SCHOOLMATE PREDICTS

(By United Press)
ARAPAHIO, Okla. — Adolf Schickelgruber would have had a hard time of it going to school if Stanley Mark, a Custer county, Okla., farmer and old schoolmate of Adolf's, had any idea of the trouble he was to start.
"Oh, if I had only known 40 years ago what kind of man was Hitler . . ." Mark said, grimacing. He doubled his work-hardened fists, eyes flashed.
Mark and the lad named Schickelgruber went to school together, 40 years ago, in Vienna.
"We was joost young boys going to trade school and we would run to not be late, Adolf and me and the other boys," Mark said.
He recalled that once in a classroom, the instructor asked the students of their ambitions. All answered except Adolf. He suddenly lowered his head and "sat like a dunce while instructor keep asking him."
"He was stubborn like a jack-ass," the lanky thick-muscled 55-year-old dirt farmer said. "He still that same way, I think," he added, smiling.
Hitler was studying to be a paper-hanger. Mark was studying the shoemaker's trade.

"Goot student? No. He would joost sit and look at nothing. He was like that always," Mark explained, in a booming, slightly accented voice.
"Yes, he was like some by the boys," Mark said, when asked about Hitler's personality, "but he was funny. He would never fight. We was not bad boys, but we like to fight sometimes—lots of times He wouldn't fight. Maybe he was coward then like now."
About the present war, Mark said: "I tell everybody we got to fight. That Schickelgruber, he is going to make war till the last man is gone. Dead. Then he is going to make suicide you watch. You see."
Mark went on to tell about Hitler's love for coffee, his aversion to girls and about the little cottage he and his mother lived in. Hitler, he said, wore patched, but clean clothes to school.
"His mother was a good woman," Mark said. "She work hard to make him good boy. Now he is doing this. He is no good. Ach."

Mark now has another score to settle with the man who changed his name to Hitler. Mark's brother, a farmer in German-occupied Sudentenland, pulls his plow by hand. The Germans confiscated his horses. To Mark whose ideas about farming are modern and involve use of tractors, huge combines, multiple plows and cultivators, the fact his brother pulls his plow by hand is the worst scar of slavery.
The Custer county farmer last saw his former schoolmate in 1902. He came to America in 1906, settled in Oklahoma near his present diligently-farmed 400 acres and became a naturalized American citizen. He has never returned to Europe, and says he never wants to. He owns his land, has a modern home nestled in a grove of trees off a main road.

SURVIVORS WED HOSPITAL AIDS

Torpedo Sends Them Right Into Arms of Brides In Delaware Institution.

LEWES, Del. (UP)—Seaman Velimir Leontic of the torpedoed Yugoslavian freighter Trepea waited less than a week to follow the example of a fellow-survivor in proposing to a member of the Beebe hospital staff. Both were accepted.

Leontic, convalescing from multiple injuries complicated by an emergency appendix operation, announced his engagement to pretty Jacqueline Brittingham, night supervisor of nurses. Dorothy M. Hudson, of the hospital office staff, is now Mrs. Lawrence Frank, bride of a week, whose husband was picked up after a U-boat sank his ship.

Wedding bells will ring for the dark-haired Slav after a second operation on his broken jaw, which did not prevent his singing folksongs of his native country at Rehoboth Beach benefit for U-boat survivors landed at the Delaware Capes.

Sharpshooters? They Downed 37 Jap Planes

These three U. S. Marine fliers downed no less than 37 Japanese planes between them in air battles in the Solomon area. The "ace" among the "aces" was Maj. John L. Smith, center, of Lexington, Okla., who downed 16 enemy planes. The other two are Maj. Robert E. Galer, left, of Washington, who shot down 11 enemy planes between Aug. 30 and Sept. 28, and Capt. Marion E. Carl of Woodburn, Ore., who downed 10 enemy planes. All have been decorated with the Navy Cross.

Fisherman Tells Of Squirrel That Swam, Rode Boat

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (UP)—Did you ever hear the one about the amphibious squirrel?

Here is the yarn as it came from Louis Molnar, owner of a sports goods store.

Molnar was on a fishing trip and had just landed a nice bass when he heard a scratching noise in the rear of his boat. A big, gray squirrel climbed aboard. The boat was nearly a mile from shore.

The squirrel displayed great interest in his fishing. Molnar swears, darting down into the boat and watching the process of unhooking the fish and rebaiting the hook.

Molnar said the squirrel stayed aboard on the homeward trip until the boat was 50 feet from shore. Then it hopped overboard, swam ashore and skittered up a tree.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC MEMBERS PLAN YEAR'S PROGRAM

Bowling League, Swimming Club, Leaders' Group Arranges Activities.

Definite plans and programs for the Girls' Athletic association, Bowling League, Swimming Club and Leaders' club at Mansfield Senior high school have been arranged under the leadership of Miss Lola Stephenson, girls' physical education instructor.

The G.A.A. meets today to appoint a committee which will be in charge of sophomore initiation, Norma Dent, president, said. Sophomores who have made enough points to become eligible will be informed of their membership at the termination of the soccer tournament Oct. 23. Chairmen for the November volleyball tournament also will be elected at the meeting.

Practice for the Bowling league will be held Friday afternoon at the Colony Bowling alley. The 24 teams, having four members each, will bowl two practice games before the tournament Oct. 23 and lasting until April.

Officers to serve for the entire school year are to be elected Thursday by the Swimming club. Names of girls who qualify to become members according to the decision of the judges, Miss Stephenson, Dick Calhoun and three club officers, will be announced Friday morning over the school's public address system. The club also sponsors a "nickel swim" for an hour every Wednesday afternoon, open to any high school girl. Money received will be used to buy new swimming suits for club members.

Leaders' club, an honorary organization for all girls with the ability to help in physical education classes who have a "B" average and have been recommended by six teachers, is scheduled to meet Thursday. At that time reports will be given from the two committees for the Homecoming assembly, Oct. 30. General chairman for the assembly is Elsie Roehm assisted by program chairman, Betty Smart and stage chairman, Eudie Smotherman.
